,1992 Children's Campfire Stories and Thoughts Robert S. Weil,2013-04 Many years ago my family and I would make trips to the mountain campsites for our vacation We found and generally used the campsite in the high country of Yosemite It was named Camp White Wolf There were several other campsites but this was one where there were individual sites large enough to set up our large tent There was what must have been a water runoff nearby although usually dry when we were there At the site there was a picnic table and a rock lined pit for a campfire After we had set up our tent at our campsite we would take walks to see and enjoy the beauty of the comfortable woods The clean cool air felt so very good on our faces The four children had their pleasure in climbing among the huge boulders They would make games among themselves Sometimes they would investigate the many different insects or small animals that they would see I carried a notepad with me I would tell them to draw a picture of what they saw Later we would then check the books we had at home to find out about what they had seen Every year there would be something different One time there was an eagle soaring among the trees not having to flap its wings using the mountain s updraft to stay aloft In the city where we lived there were few of these wondrous sights Back at our campsite we would set up a campfire carefully in the evenings The fire pit was arranged so that the fires would be slightly below ground with rocks arranged to contain the fire There was also a place on the picnic table for setting up our propane stove for warming a meal Then we would gather around this campfire and I would begin to relate stories that I knew the children would love to hear I would make up these stories with certain moral parts that would give them a meaning to life The children seemed to love to hear these stories I enjoyed having their undivided attention Later after we returned home in the city I would take time to write down these stories from the campfire I would have a different story each year I dedicated each different story to one of the children They enjoyed having their very own story I would tell the children to then draw a picture of what they thought the animal or insect might look like a picture that came from their own mind then compare their pictures with those of the others and talk about the differences they might see in the pictures They seemed to enjoy these exercises ATTRACTING BIRDS TO YOUR GARDEN ,1975 Falling Stones Charles Wyatt,2002 Falling Stones is a compelling tale of the quest for spiritual meaning in early nineteenth century rural America Sylvester Marion Jones born in 1836 inhabits a guilt laden Protestant domain saturated with ominous signs and wonders His childhood is marked first by demonic visions and later by his young brother s mysterious disappearance for which his father blames him Grown up Sylvester is drawn into marriage with a young woman suspected of witchcraft Still a seeker of light he finally achieves the purgation of his house at the savage cost of acknowledging the demon in himself The Ocean World of Jacques Cousteau: The adventure of life Jacques Cousteau,1973 Using Computers in the Language Classroom Christopher Jones,Sue Fortescue,1987
