Secessionism and Austrian Graphic Art 1900-1920 Neue Galerie der Stadt Linz, Wolfgang-Gurlitt-Museum, 1990

A Century of Austrian Design Tulga Beyerle, Karin Hirschberger, 2013-03-04 A Century of Austrian Design offers a highly accessible overview of Austrian design culture from 1900 to the present against the background of the country's extremely turbulent industrial history. In the process, the key aspects are explained in essays by celebrated experts. The book attempts to delineate a specifically Austrian formal language, citing as examples specific achievements in historical and contemporary design. As it does so, it also sheds light on other defining moments of Austria's design culture, including the enormous potential of its inventors, the phenomenon of semi-industrial manufacturing, and the innovative design solutions advanced by the Austrian sporting goods industry. A yellow pages section with selected design addresses rounds off the volume.

Child Creativity and the Visual Arts: From Secessionist Vienna to Postwar America Megan

Brandow-Faller, 2025-07-24 Tracing the dissemination of Secessionist ideas of child creativity from their origination in early 20th century Vienna through to their eventual commodification in postwar America, this book highlights the central role that visual art has played in child education and in nurturing creativity in elementary and preschool curricula. Taking the reader through the ideas of three artistic visionaries and their students, Franz Cižek and Austrian American migrants Emmy Zweybrück and Viktor Lowenfeld, this book reveals how these ideas developed in postwar America through a focus on child-centered methods of learning by doing in artistic practice. By centring the visual arts as a vital educational medium, we see how these teachings have been popularized as a means of nurturing creativity in childhood. Across three chapter-length case studies interspersed with three mini-chapters on the reception of each artist-educator's radical teachings in the American education system, Child Creativity and the Visual Arts provides new interpretations into the impact of these three luminaries, differing philosophies, on a broader program of socio-political activism in the USA. Drawing on previously untapped archival and primary source materials, it blends deep material culture analysis with narrative elements to present a compelling account of the unrecognized influence of migrant art pedagogy on progressive international art education. In doing so, it provides fresh transregional and thematic perspectives on early 1900s Vienna as a hotbed of creative and cultural experimentation and mecca of progressive art education.
