Scriptures From The Orient:

Scriptures from the Orient Anthony John Monaco, 2004-07-01 A collection of poems stories and essay presents issues affecting women writers and all women The poems address a gamut of emotions and experiences that go beyond the experiences of women to universal roles and relationships In the story Homeboy the author weaves together seemingly unrelated lives into the connection we all have with each other This collection of poems and stories draws the reader s sensibility close to the hurting point In Da Man Thing the heroine moves from a breathtaking rendezvous to marriage There are no sentimental sayings or vows from her lover just the bone bare facts the he Da Man She moves from being a lover to wife and mother loving him all the time as he acts less and less like an honorable man Eventually she begins to love herself enough to realize that only she can set herself free and that in true love there is reciprocity Throughout the book Suzanne Brooks savors many kinds of love The poems contain the bitter sting that accompanies the sweet taste of love She succinctly describes the love of a mother and daughter in inheritance A mother loves her daughter but has to contain fierce feelings of jealousy as the daughter absorbs the father s affection Lines for the Lonely tells of the sibling love the writer has for a younger brother who was a musician He is a good musician who brings happiness to others but never finds it for himself In the poem Who Brooks explores self love and the demands our culture makes on women at various ages The collection is though provoking poignant and beautiful The Hebrew and Greek Scriptures, Compared with Oriental History, Dialling, Science, and Mythology William Hewson, 1870 The sacred anthology, oriental, a book of ethnical scriptures, collected and ed. by M.D. Conway Sacred anthology, 1889 Introduction to the Massoretico-critical Edition of the Hebrew Bible Christian David Ginsburg, 1897 The Orient in Bible Times Elihu Grant, 2015-12-06 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work was reproduced from the original artifact and remains as true to the original work as possible Therefore you will see the original copyright references library stamps as most of these works have been housed in our most important libraries around the world and other notations in the work This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work As a reproduction of a historical artifact this work may contain missing or blurred pages poor pictures errant marks etc Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant Oriental Records, Historical William Harris Rule, 1877 The Orient in American Transcendental Periodicals, 1835-1886 Roger Chester Mueller, 1969 [The Biblical Reason Why. Marsh, 2017-07-17 Above all else that the sixteenth century German Reformer was known for Martin Luther was a Doctor of the Holy Scriptures One of the most characteristic features of Luther's approach to Scripture was his resolved christological interpretation of the Bible Many of the Reformer's interpreters have looked back upon Luther's Christ centered exposition of the Scriptures with sentimentality but have often labeled it as Christianization particularly in regards to Luther's approach of the Old Testament dismissing his relevance for today's faithful readers of God's Word This study revisits this assessment of Luther's christological interpretation of Scripture by way of critical analysis of the Reformer's prefaces to the Bible that he wrote for his translation of the Scriptures into the German vernacular This work contends that Luther foremost believes Jesus Christ to be the sensus literalis of Scripture on the basis of the Bible's messianic promise not enforcing a dogmatic principle onto the scriptural text and its biblical authors that would be otherwise foreign to them This study asserts that Luther's exegesis of the Bible's letter is his engagement with the biblical text is primarily responsible for his conviction that Christ is Holy Scripture's literal sense
