Search For And Discovery Of Self:

In Search of Individually Optimal Movement Solutions in Sport: Learning between Stability and Flexibility Ana Filipa Silva, John Komar, Ludovic Seifert, 2021-09-28 Artist or Imposter! Dianna Moodley, Clare Craighead, 2025-10-06 This scholarly book aims to provoke a conscience inducing disruption in arts teaching and learning practices within South African higher education It advocates for a critical humanising and compassionate pedagogy that responds to the daunting domestic realities faced by students realities that were further intensified by the coronavirus disease 2019 COVID 19 pandemic and subsequent lockdowns Through emancipatory pedagogy and arts based methodologies this book empowers research participants as co researchers granting them the capacity to create and share knowledge in contexts where their voices are often marginalised Employing an autoethnographic methodology that utilises reflective reflexive arts based approaches Artist or Imposter Breaking the barriers and dancing the data explores art forms with humanising impulses as pedagogical interventions opening fertile pathways toward embodied and empowering learning It makes theoretical and epistemological contributions to new understandings of social constructivism in higher education reframing pedagogy as a form of crisis driven activism In doing so the authors invite open engagement with non traditional and transdisciplinary methodologies while also offering practical insights to strengthen higher education practices to support student well being and academic success Challenging the guardianship of unadulterated scientific research and rigid notions of disciplinary integrity this book traverses methodological confines defying and transcending dictated boundaries It foregrounds stereotypical negativity around preconceived notions of epistemological paradigms and their constraining effect on research communities By exposing how an overemphasis on epistemology can stunt intellectual freedom the authors argue for more transformative research practices where embodied practice and collaborative knowledge production provide new ways of understanding and navigating students lived experiences This book will be especially relevant for scholars and researchers in higher education critical pedagogy and the humanities Its unique combination of theoretical depth methodological innovation and practical insight makes it especially relevant for academics seeking to rethink established paradigms expand their methodological repertoire and engage in scholarship that responds directly to the challenges of student well being equity and transformation

Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office ,2006 Perpetuum Mobile; or, search for self-motive power during the 17th, 18th and 19 Centuries Henry Dircks, 1870 Media and Social Life Mary Beth Oliver, Arthur A. Raney, 2014-03-26 Our use of media touches on almost all aspects of our social lives be they friendships parent child relationships emotional lives or social stereotypes How we understand ourselves and others is now largely dependent on how we perceive ourselves and others in media how we interact with one another through mediated channels and how we share construct and understand social issues via our mediated lives This volume highlights cutting edge scholarship from preeminent scholars in media psychology that examines how media intersect with our social lives in three broad areas media and the self media and relationships and social life in emerging media The scholars in this volume not only provide insightful and up to date examinations of theorizing and research that informs our current understanding of the role of media in our social lives but they also detail provocative and valuable roadmaps that will form that basis of future scholarship in this crucially important and rapidly evolving media landscape
