Secession Movement Eighteen Sixty To Eighteen Sixty One:

Secession Movement, Eighteen Sixty to Eighteen Sixty-One Dwight L. Dumond, Soul of the South Myrlen Britt, 2011-05-10 My book Soul of the South includes thirty short stories ranging from general fiction military everyday drama to children s stories some of which use animal characters My premier story The Pecan Tree is a fictionalized account of a soldier in General Andrew Old Hickory Jackson s army returning home from the Battle of New Orleans through west Tennessee in 1815 There has stood a huge pecan tree in Natchez Trace State Park for many years supposedly planted by a soldier of the returning army It was reputed to be the largest and oldest pecan tree in America Sadly a few years ago one of our many tornadoes destroyed it There is another story I read as a boy that stated a sixteen year old volunteer with the militia Jackson headed in his many Indian wars refused his sergeants order to pick up biscuit crumbs that he had thrown on the ground in front of his tent Because of the soldier s refusal Old Hickory had him shot for insubordination Using these two events I have woven a story of a ghost that made his presence known at various times during the years following the army s trek through the forest that became Henderson County Tennessee The story basically follows the Beacum family that settled the land where the boy was buried with a pecan in his pocket that grew into the large tree The family settled there during the 1830 s and the last surviving member died in the 1930 s The family farm is offered for back taxes and is purchased by a young teacher who has a wife and son The ghost continues his visits and only after the teacher enlists in the army and survives a Japanese prison camp does the story come to an end when he returns home There is a story of Billy the Kid who surfaces on a farm in west Tennessee when he is an old man and adds a fictional account of how his death and burial were staged by the man who history says killed him sheriff Pat Garrett I try to include a moral in each of the children s stories as well as making them interesting Abraham Lincoln, a History Nicolay, 1890 Abraham Lincoln; a History, by John nations While post war optimism and a global push for decolonisation created an environment where myriad communities felt a palpable sense of possibility for bringing their aspirations of nationhood to life many of these desires were unfulfilled

Imagining Malaya is an exploration of one of those many imagined nations that never came to be It narrates a series of seemingly disparate and contradictory political acts by the Peranakan Chinese a creolised community borne of intermarriage between the earliest Chinese migrants to the region and indigenous Malays in the post World War II period to demonstrate that the community were in fact seeking to bring to life a cosmopolitan inclusive and multi ethnic imagination of the Malay si an nation Engaging in a critical re examination of the intertwined processes of decolonization and nation making Imagining Malaya provides an alternative reading of Malay si a s path to merdeka independence from the perspective of the Peranakan It narrates how a once powerful community at the centre of Malay si an politics and society came undone by their attempts to present an alternative imagination of the nation which challenged the ethnocentrism that came to dominate the country s political life Rewriting the Peranakan into the centre of Malaysia s national story rather than its periphery is a parable on the complexities and pitfalls of attempting to forge a representative nation state from a multi ethnic society during the transition between colony and nation By bringing the Peranakan imaginary of the nation to life Bernard Z Keo makes a case for how studying nations that were unrealized can reveal just as much as investigating those that were
