Enlightenment Shadows Genevieve Lloyd,2013-07-25 Genevieve Lloyd presents a new study of the place of Enlightenment thought in intellectual history and of its continued relevance She offers original readings of a range of key texts which highlight the ways in which Enlightenment thinkers enacted in their writing and reflected on the interplay of intellect imagination and emotion The Mantle of the Earth Veronica della Dora,2021-01-18 The term mantle has inspired philosophers geographers and theologians and shaped artists and mapmakers visual vocabularies for thousands of years According to Veronica della Dora mantle is the metaphor par excellence for it unfolds between the seen and the unseen as a threshold and as a point of tension Featuring numerous illustrations The Mantle of the Earth Genealogies of a Geographical Metaphor is an intellectual history of the term mantle and its metaphorical representation in art and literature geography and cartography Through the history of this metaphor from antiquity to the modern day we learn about shifting perceptions and representations of global space about our planetary condition and about the nature of geography itself Living Words Terence J. Martin,1998 In particular Martin commends the habit of critical thinking an appreciation for irony and an irenic approach to opposition as helpful stances for improving people s efforts to talk about religion In addressing rhetorical and hermeneutical issues commonly found in philosophical theology and the philosophy of religion this work s approach through the genre of dialogue will interest those concerned with the intersection of religion and literature Essay on the Origin of Languages and Writings Related to Music Jean-Jacques Rousseau,1998 Rousseau s major works available for the first time in a uniform English edition continue with a work that situates Rousseau s linguistic and musical theory within his larger philosophical system The Myth of the Common School Charles Leslie Glenn,1988 The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1976 Manual of the History of French Literature Ferdinand Brunetière,1898

Science in the Public Sphere Richard Yeo,2024-10-28 The common focus of the essays in this book is the debate on the nature of science often referred to by contemporaries as natural knowledge in Britain during the first half of the 19th century This was the period before major state support for science allowed its professionalization indeed it was a time in which the word scientist although coined in 1833 by William Whewell was not yet widely used In this context the questions about the nature of science were part of a public debate that included the following topics scientific method and intellectual authority the moral demeanour of the man of science the hierarchy of specialised scientific disciplines and the relation with natural theology These topics were discussed both within scientific circles in correspondence and meeting of societies as well as in the wider public sphere constituted by quarterly journals and encyclopaedias A study of these debates allow us to see how British science of this period began to cast loose some of its earlier theological supports but still relied on a moral framework to affirm its distinctive method ethos and cultural value
