Recommendations for a General Mathematical Sciences Program Mathematical Association of America. Committee on the Undergraduate Program in Mathematics, 1981

The Future of College Mathematics A. Ralston, G. S. Young, 2012-12-06 The Conference Workshop of which these are the proceedings was held from 28 June to 1 July 1982 at Williams College Williamstown MA The meeting was funded in its entirety by the Alfred P Sloan Foundation The conference program and the list of participants follow this introduction The purpose of the conference was to discuss the restructuring of the first two years of college mathematics to provide some balance between the traditional calculus linear algebra sequence and discrete mathematics The remainder of this volume contains arguments both for and against such a change and some ideas as to what a new curriculum might look like A too brief summary of the deliberations at Williams is that while there were and are inevitable differences of opinion on details and nuance at least the attendees at this conference had no doubt that change in the lower division mathematics curriculum is desirable and is coming

Undergraduate Science, Mathematics and Engineering Education National Science Board (U.S.). Task Committee on Undergraduate Science and Engineering Education, 1987

Mathematics Tomorrow L.A. Steen, 2012-12-06 Mathematics today is approaching a state of crisis As the demands of science and society for mathematical literacy increase the percentage of American college students intending to major in mathematics plummets and achievement scores of entering college students continue their unremitting decline As research in core mathematics reaches unprecedented heights of power and sophistication the growth of diverse applied specialties threatens to fragment mathematics into distinct and frequently hostile mathematical sciences These crises in mathematics presage difficulties for science and engineering and alarms are beginning to sound in the scientific and even in the political communities Citing a trend towards virtual scientific and technological illiteracy and a shrinking of our national commitment to excellence in science mathematics and technology a recent study conducted for the President by the U S National Science Foundation and Department of Education warns of serious impending shortcomings in public understanding of science Today people in a wide range of non scientific professions must have a greater understanding of technology than at any time in our history Yet our educational system does not now provide such understanding The study goes on to conclude that present trends pose great risk of manpower shortages in the mathematical and engineering sciences The pool from which our future scientific and engineering personnel can be drawn is in danger of becoming smaller even as the need for such personnel is increasing It is time to take a serious look at mathematics tomorrow

Everybody Counts Mathematical Sciences Education Board, Board on Mathematical Sciences and Their Applications, National Research Council, 1989-01-15 Mathematics is the key to opportunity No longer only the language of science mathematics is now essential to business finance health and defense Yet because of the lack of mathematical literacy many students are not prepared for tomorrow's jobs Everybody Counts suggests solutions Written for everyone concerned
