How to Beat the Competition Alexander Roggenkamp, 2016-01-04 Master's Thesis from the year 2009 in the subject Business economics Offline Marketing and Online Marketing grade 1.5 University of Applied Sciences Essen language English abstract Since a few years many people talk about web 2.0 without knowing exactly what it is It is not a new web standard no new innovative product of Apple no net movement or revolution In fact it is a paraphrase for the new active role of users The technological progress makes it possible that users participate in internet actively Their role changed from a watching to a creating one New tools and features enabled users to generate content With other new websites social community websites came up using these new possibilities By now social communities like

Facebook or studiVZ have millions of members The huge acceptance on users side made those websites a real trend in web 2.0 The huge number of users makes social communities to an interesting business Experts say that social communities are not only a trend but also an important business in future Although there are already some established companies acting on the market for social communities the market will see a lot of new social communities in the next years There are only a few general social communities dividing up the market And there are enough topics which are not occupied as yet Only those social communities will beat the competition and will remain which are able to generate revenue and profit

Research and Teaching in a Pandemic World Basil Cahusac de Caux, Lynette Pretorius, Luke Macaulay, 2023-01-01 This book adopts collaborative autoethnography as its methodology and presents the collective witnessing of experiences of the COVID 19 pandemic within the higher education sector Through the presentation of staff and student experiences and what was learnt from them the authors examine the global phenomenon that is the COVID 19 pandemic through the purposeful exploration of their own experiences This book presents an overall argument about the state of higher education in the middle of the pandemic and highlights academic issues and region specific challenges The reflections presented in this book offer insights for other staff and students as well as academic policy makers regarding the pandemic experiences of those within academia It also offers practical suggestions as to how we as a global community can move forward post pandemic

Ghosting Dominic Pettman, 2025-08-21 Abandonment is as old as time but ghosting is a modern twist on this ancient experience It translates this age old phenomenon into our modern world of screens delete buttons and blocking options Ghosting is not only an unpleasant experience or cowardly act but a symptom of our increasingly spectral that is mediated and virtual relationship to the world The overabundance of new modes of communication has invited an almost infinite number of contacts and conversations At the same time it has also offered an unprecedented opportunity for ignoring messages from others And just as we invented the car crash when we invented automobiles we also encouraged ghosting when we created the internet Ghosting creates an empty space in our minds a space faithfully tracing the silhouette of the one who ghosted us But unlike traditional ghosts today's ghosters simply disappear leaving behind a form of haunting that is closer to mourning mourning for someone who is not in fact dead In putting a kind of preemptive mourning into our everyday affairs ghosting tells us much about the current human relationship or non relationship to a shared sense of mortality purpose and spirit This book the first sustained analysis of ghosting traces the source of this vexed experience to and through
