Tom Woodhouse, Robert Bruce, Malcolm Dando, 2016-07-27 The fiftieth anniversary of the foundation of the United Nations was commemorated in 1995 with a number of conferences and publications which assessed the history and contemporary role of this paramount international organisation This book is the result of a meeting of scholars and specialists who wished to further understanding of the challenges faced by the United Nations in its efforts to intervene in post cold war conflict In particular the experiences in Bosnia Somalia and in Rwanda where UN peacekeepers seemed powerless to act in the face of acts of genocide gross violations of human rights and the widespread suffering caused by war makes such an analysis timely and important Peacekeeping and Peacemaking After the Cold War Lynn Etheridge Davis,1993 This report addresses the challenges of peacekeeping and peacemaking after the Cold War looking first at recent efforts to keep the peace and then suggesting a multifaceted approach for the future It looks at operations in which the international community successfully cooperated such as in Iraq and less successfully so such as in Cambodia and the western Sahara It points out that bringing peace to post Cold War conflicts will require the international community to take a role in helping build nations and in the process carry out such additional activities as monitoring human rights demobilizing armies providing administrative services and setting up democratic institutions Towards a Theory of United Nations Peacekeeping A.B. Fetherston,1994-12-13 At a time when peacekeepers are struggling to fulfil increasingly demanding mandates and UN peacekeeping is in danger of losing the distinct character that won it the 1988 Nobel Peace Prize this important book argues for a clear theoretical redefinition within a conflict resolution framework and examines the practical implications for training This is a valuable and original contribution to the peacekeeping literature Dr Oliver Ramsbotham Department of Peace Studies University of Bradford Both for the blue helmets on the ground and for the diplomats at UN headquarters conflict resolution skills are essential for conducting peacekeeping operations Betts Fetherstone s excellent study points the way forward to a synthesis between conflict management and peacekeeping Hugh Miall Research Fellow European Programme Royal Institute of International Affairs The prevailing over taxed ad hoc system of peacekeeping does not meet the growing demands posed by the post Cold War world This volume argues that peacekeeping needs to be placed on firm conceptual footing directly congruent with its peaceful third party role The implications of this conceptualisation of peacekeeping for practice are then discussed Training is cited as a key means of translating conceptual understanding into practice Without this foundation work UN has little chance of changing its existing and largely ineffective system of conflict management At a time when peacekeepers are struggling to fulfil increasingly demanding mandates and UN peacekeeping is in danger of losing the distinct character that won it the 1988 Nobel Peace Prize this important book argues for a clear theoretical redefinition within a conflict resolution framework and examines the practical implications for training This is a valuable and original contribution to the peacekeeping literature The United Nations and Peacekeeping Indarjit Rikhye,Kjell Skjelsbaek,2016-07-27 The 1988 Nobel Peace Prize has thrown into sharp relief the significant role United Nations peacekeepers have played on the international stage since the first operation 40 years ago This volume takes stock of our peacekeeping past and present and considers its future It gives an insider s look at management and financing issues the views of troop contributing countries and the effect of operations on peacekeepers and local populations This volume

Long-Term Conflict Prevention and Industrial Development Ralf Breidel, 2003 After decades of striving to prevent international conflict major armed conflicts in the 1990s have taken place within national boundaries After the series of national independence wars in the 1950s and 1960s and frequent geopolitical wars in the 1970s and 1980s a category of wars of the third kind prevailed The aim of this book is to consider the root causes of recent internal conflicts and to develop long term conflict prevention strategies from here New insights suggest the central role of politico economic inequalities in ethnic religious and cultural conflict The United Nations system has just started to adjust to this new reality of conflict and make long term conflict prevention a priority issue on international agendas Whereas development practitioners should principally conceive their work through a conflict prevention lens there is a shift in focus to United Nations agencies that deal with the economic characteristics of conflict The unbroken significance of a sustainable industrial development process in developing countries may allow the United Nations Industrial Development Organization UNIDO a particular vantage point and role in the long term prevention of conflict
