Hucks, 2018-04-17 The 18th century was a wealth of knowledge, exploration, and rapidly growing technology and expanding record-keeping made possible by advances in the printing press. In its determination to preserve the century of revolution, Gale initiated a revolution of its own: digitization of epic proportions to preserve these invaluable works in the largest archive of its kind. Now for the first time, these high-quality digital copies of original 18th-century manuscripts are available in print, making them highly accessible to libraries, undergraduate students, and independent scholars. Rich in titles on English life and social history, this collection spans the world as it was known to eighteenth-century historians and explorers. Titles include a wealth of travel accounts and diaries, histories of nations from throughout the world, and maps and charts of a world that was still being discovered. Students of the War of American Independence will find fascinating accounts from the British side of conflict. The below data was compiled from various identification fields in the bibliographic record of this title. This data is provided as an additional tool in helping to insure edition identification: British Library T110532. With a final errata leaf. London: printed for J. Debrett and J. Edwards. Sold also by W. H. Lunn, B. Flower, and J. Deighton. Cambridge: Messrs. Binns and Greenwood. Leeds: and Messrs. Dyer and Trewman. Exeter: 1795. 8. 160. 2 p. 12. Romantic Writing and Pedestrian Travel R. Jarvis, 1997-08-04 Romantic Writing and Pedestrian Travel is an exploration of the relationship between walking and writing.

Robin Jarvis here reconstructs the scene of walking both in Britain and on the Continent in the 1790s and analyses the mentality and motives of the early pedestrian traveller. He then discusses the impact of this cultural revolution on the creativity of major Romantic writers focusing especially on William and Dorothy Wordsworth, Coleridge, Clare, Keats, Hazlitt and Hunt. In readings which engage current debates around literature and travel, landscape aesthetics, ecocriticism, the poetics of gender and the materiality of Romantic discourse, Jarvis demonstrates how walking became not only a powerful means of self-enfranchisement but also the focus of restless textual energies.
