Pekina Walter Czernezkyj,1974      Never See a Need Marie Therese Foale,2016-06-30 Never See a Need is an account of the lives and works of the Sisters of St Joseph of the Sacred Heart in South Australia from the time of their foundation in 1866 until Mary MacKillop's canonisation in 2010 Much happened during those 144 years There were dark times and bright times times of growth and expansion interspersed with times of decline times of stability and times of change and through it all the members of the Congregation never forgot their call to do what they could to remedy the evils and ills of their society They were educators but they also looked out for the welfare of the poor and disadvantaged in different ways as they moved across the landscape to wherever they were needed always a people on the move but always stable in their devotion to their ministry      Memory, Place and Aboriginal-Settler History Skye Krichauff,2017-09-27 Taking the absence of Aboriginal people in South Australian settler descendants historical consciousness as a starting point Memory Place and Aboriginal Settler History combines the methodologies and theories of historical enquiry anthropology and memory studies to investigate the multitudinous and intertwined ways the colonial past is known represented and made sense of by current generations Informed by interviews and fieldwork conducted with settler and Aboriginal descendants oral histories site visits and personal experience Skye Krichauff closely examines the diverse but interconnected processes through which the past is understood and narrated Memory Place and Aboriginal Settler History demonstrates how it is possible to unsettle settler descendants consciousness of the colonial past in ways that enable a tentative connection with Aboriginal people and their experiences      National Union Catalog ,1978 Includes entries for maps and atlases      South Australiana ,1974

The Adventures of Wu H. Y. Lowe,2014-07-14 Based on first hand experience this entrancing narrative of daily life in Peking in the first decades of this century makes vivid the milieu of a fictional family the traditionally minded lower middle class family of Wu The author uses experiences of the Wu family's son from birth to marriage to convey in rich detail a vanished way of life including children's games nursery rhymes and education flowers and foods street entertainers folk amusements and acrobatics religions jokes and poems and a great deal more Originally published in 1983 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905      South Australiana Libraries Board of South Australia,1973      Peking Susan Naquin,2001-01-15 The central character in Susan Naquin's extraordinary new book is the city of Peking during the Ming and Qing periods Using the city's temples as her point of entry Naquin carefully excavates Peking's varied public arenas the city's transformation over five centuries its human engagements and its rich cultural imprint This study shows how modern Beijing s glittering image as China s great and ancient capital came into being and reveals the shifting identities of a much more complex past one whose rich social and cultural history Naquin splendidly evokes Temples by providing a place where diverse groups could gather without the imprimatur of family or state made possible a surprising assortment of community building and identity defining activities By revealing how religious establishments of all kinds were used for fairs markets charity tourism politics and leisured sociability Naquin shows their decisive impact on Peking and at the same time illuminates their little appreciated role in Chinese cities generally Lacking most of the conventional sources for urban history she has relied particularly on a trove of commemorative inscriptions that express ideas about the relationship between human beings and gods about community service and public responsibility about remembering and being remembered The result is a book that will be essential reading in the field of Chinese studies for years to come
