A Peking Diary Lois Fisher-Ruge, 1979      China During the Cultural Revolution, 1966-1976 Tony H. Chang, 1999-01-30
One of the most tumultuous periods in modern Chinese history the Cultural Revolution affected virtually all Chinese people and all aspects of Chinese life including art music and drama education factory management economic planning and medical care Studies of the Cultural Revolution in both Chinese and Western languages have burgeoned over the past three decades This comprehensive easy to use bibliography provides a guide to published English language sources on the Cultural Revolution With over a thousand entries it includes books monographs dissertations and audio visual materials on a broad range of topics from the military education religion and economics to foreign relations population art literature and drama Including titles published through the end of 1997 and a few in 1998 the book provides a general overview of the literature on the Chinese Cultural Revolution and its impact on China Its scope and coverage make it a useful resource for any library whose readers have an interest in modern Chinese history      Asia/Pacific as Space of Cultural Production Rob Wilson, Arif Dirlik, 1995 Although the Asia Pacific region occupies a prominent place in geopolitical thinking little is available to readers concerning the resistant communities and cultures of Pacific and Asian peoples This book fills that gap by documenting the efforts of diverse indigenous cultures to claim and reimagine Asia Pacific as a space for their own cultural production by presenting essays poems and memoirs by prominent Asia Pacific writers that resist appropriation by transnational capitalism through the articulation of autonomous local identities and counter histories of place and community In addition cultural critics spanning several locations and disciplines deconstruct representations particularly those on film and in novels that perpetuate Asia Pacific as a realm of EuroAmerican fantasy This collection offers a new perception of the Asia Pacific region by presenting the Pacific not as a paradise or vast emptiness but as a place where living struggling peoples have constructed contemporary identities out of a long history of hegemony and resistance back cover      A Peking Diary Lois Fisher, 1979

China Peter Cheng, 1983      Subject Catalog Library of Congress, 1982      Space, Politics, and Cultural Representation in Modern China Enhua Zhang, 2016-12-08 Regarding revolution as a spatial practice this book explores modes of spatial construction in modern China through a panoramic overview of major Chinese revolutionary events and nuanced analysis of cultural representations Examining the relationship between revolution space and culture in modern China the author takes five spatially significant revolutionary events as case studies the territorial dispute between Russia and the Qing dynasty in 1892 the Land Reform in the 1920s the Long March 1934-36 the mainland Taiwan split in 1949 and the Cultural Revolution 1966-76 and analyses how revolution constructs conceives and transforms space Using materials associated with these events including primarily literature as well as maps political treatises historiography plays film and art the book argues that in addition to redirecting the flow of Chinese history revolutionary movements operate in and on space in three main ways maintaining territorial sovereignty redefining social relations and governing an imaginary realm Arguing for reconsideration of revolution as a reorganization of space as much as time this book will appeal to students and scholars of Chinese culture society history and literature      Educators' Source Book on China Alice H. Songe, Pauline B. Mangin, 1981
