

Payment by Capitation

- The organization/provider receives a fixed sum of money per period for each individual (enrolled) under its care
 - Fee is for all “covered services” required by persons under care in the period
 - The fee per person per period is pre-determined
 - Total payment depends on the number of persons on the “roster” (enrolled with the provider/organization) regardless of their utilization or number of visits/services needed
 - It is for funding or remuneration
 - Mostly prospective payment
- The capitation payment is usually risk-adjusted to reflect the differing needs of individuals (age and sex risk classes are common factors)
- It creates incentive to under-provide care (called “skimping”) and to engage in risk selection to attract relatively low-risk, healthy individuals within each risk class

Managed Care Technical Assistance Series, 1997 Mental Health, United States, 1996 Ronald W. Manderscheid, Mary A. Sonnenschein, 1998-05 Provides summaries of statistical information on topics that will be of concern in health care Chapters on managed care include policy considerations lessons learned from behavioral managed care approaches the status of managed behavioral health care in America behavioral health care in HMOs Other chapters provide mental health epidemiological data for adults children information on mental health in Medicare Medicaid programs mental health services in rural areas data on mental health providers Most chapters cover topics not included in previous editions Designing Substance Abuse and Mental Health Capitation Projects Cindy Brach, 1998 Mental Health, United States, 1996 Core Readings in Psychiatry Michael H. Sacks, William H. Sledge, 1995 Core Readings in Psychiatry Second Edition stands as an essential text for the academic The contributors are distinguished experts who have a firm grasp of the relevant and classical citations in specific areas of psychiatry In the intervening 8 years since the first edition the profession s knowledge base has changed immensely Included in this second edition are numerous citations and new topics such as AIDS neuropsychiatry models of psychoanalytic thought child development and medical economics The book will open bibliographic doors for the academician as well as for the provider manager and consumer of psychiatric services and knowledge It is designed to be an introduction and guide to the entire psychiatric literature Administration and Policy in Mental Health, 1992

Evaluating a Mental Health Capitation Experiment Debra Sabatini Dwyer, 1994 Economics and Mental Health Richard G. Frank, Willard G. Manning, 1992-11 How do health insurance regulations affect the care of person with mental illness And how do such persons in turn affect the economy through lost productivity reduced labor supply and deviant behavior at the workplace In Economics and Mental Health Richard G Frank and Willard G Manning Jr bring to gether a distinguished group of health care economists to explore the new and rapidly growing feild of mental health economics The authors begin by dicsussing the issue of care for severely mentally ill patients as it is influenced by differing modes of reimbursement They then offer labor market analyses that shed light on the economic costs of mental illness They analyse the interaction of health insurance and the demand for mental health care And they present case studies that outline experimental systems of delivering health care Econometric Analysis of Health Data Andrew M. Jones, Owen O'Donnell, 2002-05-17 Given extensive use of individual level data in Health Economics it has become increasingly important to understand the microeconomic techniques available to applied researchers The purpose of this book is to give readers convenient access to a collection of recent contributions that contain innovative applications of microeconomic methods to data on health and health care Contributions are selected from papers presented at the European Workshops on Econometrics and Health Economics and published in Health Economics Topics covered include Latent Variables Unobservable heterogeneity and selection problems Count data and survival analysis Flexible and semiparametric estimators for limited dependent variables Classical and simulation methods for panel data Publication marks the tenth anniversary of the Workshop series Doctoral students and researchers in health economics and microeconomics will find this book invaluable Researchers in related fields such as labour economics and biostatistics will also find the content of use

Managed Mental Health Services Saul Feldman,1992 Deinstitutionalization: Promise and Problems Richard H. Lamb,2001-07-25 Both the scope and effects of deinstitutionalization have been dramatic This volume examines both positive and negative effects of this mass movement of persons with severe mental illness out of the state hospitals and into the community The chapters address the following issues the use of community alternatives to state hospitalization the very large numbers of persons with severe mental illness who have found their way into the criminal justice system why this has happened and what to do about it the community treatment of mentally ill offenders how to prevent inappropriate entry of mentally ill persons into the criminal justice system the value of mental health consultation in courtroom settings the therapeutic use of mental health conservatorship and finally psychiatric rehabilitation Although deinstitutionalization for the most part can result in a much richer life experience in the community much more needs to be done to make that occur This is the 90th issue of the Jossey Bass series New Directions for Mental Health Services Cumulated Index Medicus ,1990

The Effects of Medicaid Mental Health Capitation on Youth Involvement in the Juvenile Justice System in the State of Colorado Michelle Ann-Rish Scott,1999 Quality of Life in Mental Disorders Heinz Katschnig,Norman Sartorius,2006 In this volume the contributors examine the relationship between quality of life and disabilities with psychosocial concepts like well being life satisfaction difficulties and events and social adjustments in patients with mental disorders Assessing and Treating Victims of Violence John Briere,1994 Recent research has shown that a significant proportion of North American children are sexually physically or psychologically abused each year and that the number of reports of adult rape spousal abuse and physical assault by strangers continues to grow Beyond the epidemiology of societal violence per se is its impact on the mental health of those who live in our culture Scientists and clinicians are beginning to trace the genesis of a number of psychological symptoms and disorders to childhood or adult traumatic events many of which involve interpersonal violence As a result a new specialty of mental health practitioners has evolved one specifically concerned with the assessment and treatment of psychological trauma At the same time however the typical front line clinician is bound to encounter children and adults who have been victimized and who present complex post traumatic sequelae It is for both the trauma specialist and the general clinician that this sourcebook was developed Although the subject matter is disturbing growing assessment and treatment technology give us new hope for treating victims of violence This is the 64th issue of the quarterly journal New Directions for Mental Health Services For more information on the series please see the Journals and Periodicals page Mental Health Symposium ,1994 The Milbank Quarterly ,1995
