The basis for our autonomous governance

Peace On Bougainville

Sidonia Angom

Peace On Bougainville:

Peace on Bougainville Rebecca Adams, 2001 This is a unique look at the country of Bougainville its people their history and their move toward peace told from the perspectives of the people involved both within and outside of the process The book traces the peace movement from November 20 1997 when unarmed monitors from New Zealand Australia Vanuatu and Fiji arrived in Bougainville with the agreement of the Papua New Guinea government and most of the political factions on Bougainville Their task was to establish a secure atmosphere in which Bougainvilleans could forge their own peaceful solution to the conflict The individual viewpoints show how the fragile road toward a peaceful outcome was constructed

Reconciliation and Architectures of Commitment John Braithwaite, Hilary Charlesworth, Peter Reddy, Leah Dunn, 2010-09-01 Following a bloody civil war peace consolidated slowly and sequentially in Bougainville That sequence was of both a top down architecture of credible commitment in a formal peace process and layer upon layer of bottom up reconciliation Reconciliation was based on indigenous traditions of peacemaking It also drew on Christian traditions of reconciliation on training in restorative justice principles and on innovation in womens peacebuilding Peacekeepers opened safe spaces for reconciliation but it was locals who shaped and owned the peace There is much to learn from this distinctively indigenous peace architecture It is a far cry from the norms of a liberal peace or a realist peace The authors describe it as a hybrid restorative peace in which mothers of the land and then male combatants linked arms in creative ways A danger to Bougainville s peace is weakness of international commitment to honour the result of a forthcoming independence referendum that is one central plank of the peace deal

Building Peace in Bougainville Geoff T. Harris, Naihuwo Ahai, Rebecca Spence, 1999 Working Together to Bring Lasting Peace to Bougainville Papua New Guinea. Minister for Bougainville Affairs, 1997 Bougainville Australia. Parliament. Joint Standing Committee on Foreign Affairs, Defence, and Trade, 1999

Settling Self-Determination Disputes Marc Weller, Barbara Metzger, 2008-01-31 The study is the result of an international collaborative project supported and funded by the Carnegie Corporation of New York This multi year venture has involved a research team of some forty chapter authors and commentators The research has been accompanied by three major workshops on project methodology initial chapter reviews and final discussions A point was made of including both scholars and practitioners involved in power sharing settlements in the review process in the hope that more would be learned about the actual implementation of the settlements under investigation The project team was united in its wish to explore whether long standing secessionist conflicts have been addressed effectively through the significant number of self determination settlements that were generated in response to the wave of internal conflicts of the 1990s It was also committed to testing whether consociationalist and integrative techniques of conflict settlement really are as mutually exclusive as is sometimes supposed or whether they can in fact be mutually reinforcing Finally the project derives its impetus from the necessity to critically rethink the doctrine of self determination One may question whether its traditional restrictive interpretation will be adequate in confronting the wide variety of future challenges to the territorial integrity of states Gewaltordnungen bewaffneter Gruppen Jutta Bakonyi,Stephan Hensell,Jens Siegelberg,2006

Working Together to Bring Lasting Peace to Bougainville Papua New Guinea. Minister for Bougainville Affairs,1998* Women in Peacemaking and Peacebuilding in Northern Uganda Sidonia Angom,2018-04-12 The book analyses the two decades of the brutal civil war of northern Uganda The author modified Lederach's peacebuilding framework to include peacemaking to bring out the argument that women and men make significant contributions to the peace processes and point out women's position as top leadership actors The book uncovers the under emphasised role of women in peacemaking and building From grassroots to national level women were found to have organised themselves and assumed roles as advocates negotiators and mobilisers The actions by women became evident at the stalemated Juba peace talks when women presented the Peace Torch to the peace negotiating teams who on the occasion shook hands for the first time and peace was ushered in Their initiatives and non violent actions offer lessons to resolve civil conflicts in Africa The book recommends that women should undergo relevant training in times of peace as this would make them more effective in times of need Intervention and State-Building in the Pacific Greg Fry,Tarcisius Tara Kabutaulaka,2008-10-15 Intervention and State Building in the Pacific explores state building intervention in weak war torn or failing states through a critical examination of a new model that has recently emerged in relation to the Pacific arc of crisis Initiated by the Australian Government in 2003 this cooperative intervention doctrine built on declared principles of partnership and respect for sovereignty seems to offer a legitimate way to engage in state building intervention Drawing on a group of distinguished Pacific specialists this book mounts a critique of these claims showing how international legitimacy does not automatically translate into political legitimacy among those in the affected societies and how the attempt to legitimize the intervention internationally may actually work against such legitimacy in the recipient state Bougainville, a Pacific Solution Australia. Parliament. Delegation to Bougainville,1994 Südostasien aktuell ,1998 Building Peace in Bougainville Satish Chand,2013 Pacific Economic Bulletin ,2002 Reconciliation in Conflict-Affected Communities Bert Jenkins,D. B. Subedi,Kathy Jenkins,2017-10-29 This book focuses on the formal and informal reconciliation processes during conflict and post conflict periods in various locations in the Asia Pacific and includes cases studies based on primary research conducted in countries such as Cambodia Timor Leste Nepal Sri Lanka Pakistan India South Thailand Bougainville and the Solomon Islands It offers insights to further our understanding of the social and political processes of reconciliation in a region that has witnessed numerous armed conflicts many of them perpetuating over generations The book also draws lessons from the richness arising from diversity in terms of religious and cultural practices social life and forms of government and governance and through the exploration of theories and practices of reconciliation in conflict and post conflict contexts in the region It provides useful reference material for researchers academics policy makers and students
