Peasant Cooperation And Capitalist Expansion In Central Peru:

Peasant Cooperation and Capitalist Expansion in Central Peru Norman Long, Bryan R. Roberts, 2014-11-06 This book brings together the research into regional development and social change carried out in highland Peru by a team of British and Latin American social anthropologists and sociologists The area studied the Mantaro Valley of central Peru is one of the most densely populated and economically differentiated of highland zones it is also notable for its community based forms of cooperation and its high level of peasant political activity The book presents a series of case studies that examine cooperative forms of organization in relation to developments in the regional economy and to changes in national policy The analysis attempts to avoid interpreting local processes merely as responses to externally initiated change It stresses instead the need to consider the interplay of local and national forces because local groups and processes themselves affect the pattern of regional and national development The case studies cover a range of political and economic topics from peasant movements to the achievements and shortcomings of government sponsored agricultural and manufacturing cooperatives The concluding chapter by the editors explores the theoretical implications of these studies Peasants, Capitalism, and Imperialism in an Age of Politico-Ecological Crisis Mark Tilzey, Fraser Sugden, 2023-09-27 This book utilises a new theoretical approach to understand the dynamics of the peasantry and peasant resistance in relation to capitalism state class and imperialism in the global South In this companion volume to Peasants Capitalism and the Work of Eric R Wolf the authors further develop their thinking on agrarian transitions to capitalism the development of imperialism and the place of the peasantry in these dynamics with special reference to the global South in an era of politico ecological crisis Focusing on the political role of the peasantry in contested transitions to capitalism and to modes of production outside of and beyond capitalism the book contends that an understanding of these dynamics requires an analysis of class struggle and of the resources material and discursive that different classes can bring to bear on this struggle The book focuses on the rise of capitalism in the global South within the context of imperial subordination to the global North and the place of the peasantry in shaping and resisting these dynamics The book presents case studies of contested transitions to agrarian capitalism in Bolivia Ecuador Guatemala Mexico Peru and South Asia It also examines the case of transition to a post capitalist mode of production in Cuba The book concludes with an assessment of the nature of capitalism and imperialism within the context of the contemporary politico ecological crisis and the potential role of the peasantry as agent of emancipatory change towards social and environmental sustainability This book will be of great interest to students and researchers in the areas of peasant studies rural politics agrarian studies development and political ecology Human Rights Trade-Offs in Times of Economic Growth Areli

Valencia, 2016-11-03 This book uncovers a historical dependency on smelting activities that has trapped inhabitants of La Oroya Peru in a context of systemic lack of freedom La Oroya has been named one of the most polluted places on the planet by the US Blacksmith Institute Residents face the dilemma of whether to defend their health or to preserve job stability at the local smelter the main source of toxic pollution in town Valencia unpacks this paradoxical human rights trade off This context shaped by social historical political and economic factors increases people s vulnerabilities and decreases their ability to choose resulting in residents trading off their right to health in order to work This book shows the deep connection of this local dilemma to the country s national paradox arising out of Peru s vision of natural resource extraction as the main path to secure economic growth for the entire country at the expense of some groups Peasants on Plantations Vincent C. Peloso,1999 An account of the way social relations governing the production of cotton in Peru s South Coast changed as capitalism penetrated Peru s agrarian base the analysis is unusual in that the author looks at the plantation system from a peasant poi Peasants on the Edge William P. Mitchell,2010-07-05 Throughout Latin America and the rest of the Third World profound social problems are growing in response to burgeoning populations and unstable economic and political systems In Peru terrorist acts by the Shining Path guerilla movement are the most visible manifestation of social discontent but rapid economic and religious changes have touched the lives of almost everyone radically altering traditional lifeways In this twenty year study of the community of Quinua in the Department of Ayacucho William Mitchell looks at changes provoked by population growth within a severely limited ecological and economic setting including increasing conversion to a cash economy and out migration the decline of the Catholic fiesta system and the rise of Protestantism and growing poverty and revolution When Mitchell first began his field studies in Quinua in 1966 farming was still the Quinue os principal means of livelihood But while the population was increasing rapidly the amount of arable land in the community remained the same creating increased food shortfalls At the same time government controls on food prices and subsidies of cheap food imports drove down the value of rural farm production These ecological and economic factors forced many people to enter the nonfarm economy to feed themselves Using a materialist approach Mitchell charts the new economic strategies that Quinue os use to confront the harsh pressures of their lives including ceramic production wage labor petty commerce and migration to cash work on the coast and in the eastern tropical forests In addition he shows how the growing conversion from Catholicism to Protestantism is also an economic strategy since Protestant ideology offers acceptable reasons for redirecting the money that used to be spent on elaborate religious festivals to household needs and education The twenty year span of this study makes it especially valuable for students of social change Mitchell s unique interdisciplinary approach considering ecological economic and population factors simultaneously offers a model that can be widely applied in many Third World areas Additionally the inclusion of an entire chapter of family histories reveals how economic and ecological forces are played out at the individual level Household and Class Relations Carmen Diana Deere,2022-05-13 Household and Class Relations offers an adept and multifaceted look at modern peasant family relation ships With the perspectives of an anthropologist and sociologist as well as those of an economist Deere brings a fresh approach to the classic question how do households continue to exist as units of production and reproduction in the face of their growing proletarianization and impoverishment She draws upon rich life histories as well as archival and survey research to provide a regional history of the northern Peruvian highland province of Cajamarca since the turn of the century Beginning with an examination of the hacienda system in the first four decades of this century Household and Class Relations goes on to probe the development of agrarian capitalism in the postwar period and the peasant economy of the 1970s With this background firmly in place Household and Class Relations then distinguishes itself through attention to the interaction between class and gender Deere argues that the subordination of women has had high costs for the well being of rural households exacerbating peasant poverty Further she shows how peasant households have adopted a strategy of participating in multiple income generating activities in order to survive Breaking new ground her study examines how gender relations interact with class relations to explain social differentiation among peasants This is an exciting and stimulating study that will appeal to Latin Americanists scholars of women s studies and economists Wide ranging and incisive it will garner attention from many quarters This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1990 Agrarian Structures of Latin America, 1930-1990 Norman Long,1992 Mineros, campesinos y empresarios en la sierra central del Perú Norman Long,2001 Third World Peasants and Agrarian Change in the Twentieth Century ,1988 Der informelle Wirtschaftssektor in seiner Bedeutung für die neuere Entwicklung in der nordperuanischen Regionalstadt Trujillo und ihrem Hinterland Camille E.
