Maritime Work Law Fundamentals: Responsible Shipowners, Reliable Seafarers Iliana Christodoulou-Varotsi, Dmitry A. Pentsov, 2007-10-18 The importance of international maritime labour law both as a component of international maritime law and in socio political and economic terms has been recognised by the IMO International Maritime Law Institute for a number of years Indeed the Institute has annually organised a course on maritime labour law with the participation of inter alia the International Maritime Organization the International Labour Organization the International Transport Workers Federation and the German Shipowners Association It was therefore a great pleasure when the authors invited me to introduce their forthcoming monograph on Maritime Work Law Fundamentals Responsible Shipowners Reliable Seafarers As the title suggests a fundamental challenge of this branch of international maritime law is to achieve a balance between the interests of the two main stakeholders Institutionally the effort to achieve this balance dates back a number of decades with its genesis mainly found in the work of the International Labour Organization It has to be said that whilst this effort achieved great progress it has led to a haphazard plethora of legal instruments trapped between rival forces of armed soldiers Under the UK government's hostile environment policy many legal immigration routes have been closed and the rights of asylum seekers have been severely curtailed The so called migrant caravan which began in Honduras in October 2018 prompted the US and Mexican governments to deploy active duty military officers to the border creating more chaos in the area

Flag State Responsibility John N. K. Mansell, 2009-06-12 All of these flag States have the right to sail ships flying their flag on the high seas LOSC Article 90 and those ships enjoy the freedom of navigation upon the high seas LOSC Article 87 With this freedom comes a concomitant duty upon the flag State to effectively exercise its jurisdiction and control in administrative technical social LOSC Article 94 1 and environmental protection LOSC Article 217 matters over ships flying its flag 1 2 Flag State Responsibility The absence of any authority over ships sailing the high seas would lead to chaos One of the essential adjuncts to the principle of freedom of the seas is that a ship must fly the flag of a single State and that it is subject to the jurisdiction of that State Brown 1994 p 287 This opinion of the International Law Commission in 1956 on a draft article of the High Seas Convention HSC was a product of its time a time of traditional maritime States and responsible long established shipping companies operating for 3 the most part under the effective maritime administrations of their national flag

The Coastguard, Emergency Towing Vessels and the Maritime Incident Response Group Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Transport Committee, 2011-06-23 Under current proposals the Maritime Coastguard Agency plans to close ten of the existing 14 Maritime Rescue Coordination Centres and to leave three that remain open on a 24 hour basis and five that will operate in daylight hours only The Transport Committee found little support for the measures and has no confidence that under these proposals the Coastguard will in future be able to respond to emergencies at sea as well as they do now let alone in a more effective way The Committee is not convinced by the Government's claim that technology can at present replace local knowledge Serious concerns were raised that the safety of people at sea on cliffs and beaches will be jeopardised if the proposals proceed in their current form Ministers must issue revised proposals for further consultation The Committee also strongly condemns the Government's cost cutting decision to withdraw funding for the four Emergency Towing Vessels ETVs stationed around the UK coast large tugs that intercept disabled ships to prevent environmental pollution disasters The Transport Committee also criticises proposals to completely remove government funding for the Maritime Incident Response group MIRG a national fire fighting at sea capability Ministers should instead adopt a slimmed down MIRG which is more cost effective than the present arrangement Lastly the Committee records its disappointment that Mike Penning MP Minister for Shipping instructed regular coastguards not to give oral evidence to the committee on the basis that they were junior civil servants
