German Light Cruisers of World War II Gerhard

Koop,Klaus-Peter Schmolke,2014-07-22 An immensely interesting look at the Emden K nigsberg Karlsruhe K ln Leipzig and N rnbergships from drawing board to destiny War History Online The warships of the World War II era German Navy are among the most popular subject in naval history with an almost uncountable number of books devoted to them However for a concise but authoritative summary of the design history and careers of the major surface ships it is difficult to beat a series of six volumes written by Gerhard Koop and illustrated by Klaus Peter Schmolke Each contains an account of the development of a particular class a detailed description of the ships with full technical details and an outline of their service heavily illustrated with plans battle maps and a substantial collection of photographs These have been out of print for ten years or more and are now much sought after by enthusiasts and collectors so this new modestly priced reprint of the series will be widely welcomed This volume is devoted to the six ships from Emden to N rnberg that were built between the wars They were primarily intended for commerce raiding but the war gave them few opportunities for such employment although they did provide useful support for key naval operations in the Baltic and North Sea Two were lost in the 1940 Norway campaign but the remainder survived for most of the conflict A ship by ship history of the cruisers The text is supported by an excellent collection of plans and photographs Overall this is a very impressive history of a fairly unimpressive set of warships
