The Magic of Hebrew Chant Shefa Gold,2013 Rabbi Shefa Gold beloved teacher of chant Jewish mysticism prayer and spirituality introduces you to this transformative spiritual practice as a way to unlock the power of sacred texts and take prayer and meditation into the delight of your life Dictionary Catalog of the Klau Library, Cincinnati Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion. Library,1964 Judaica Sound Recordings in the Harvard College Library: Subject index Harvard College Library. Judaica Division,Violet Gilboa,1996 Guidebook for Sephardic and Oriental Genealogical Sources in Israel Mathilde A. Tagger,Yitzchak Kerem,2006 This book reveals the wealth of resources on Sephardic Jewish history and genealogy in Israel Even though research can be conducted abroad the essential sources and collections are located in Israel It encompasses important archival collections such as the Central Archives for the History of the Jewish People the Central Zionist Archives the Jewish National and University Library Department of Manuscripts and Archives the Jewish National and University Library Institute of Hebrew Microfilmed Manuscripts the Ben Zvi Institute Library Yad Vashem Library and countless other repositories maintained by research institutes and museums and managed by various immigrant and other ethnic associations in Israel The book is divided alphabetically by country as shown in the Table of Contents below The twenty nine appendices contain name lists the majority of which were found in archival material Modernism and Cultural Transfer Yael S. Feldman,1986-12-31 It was twentieth century Modernism that introduced bilingualism into the literary arena Used as a means for the contradictory aims of universalizing or individualizing the literary idiom this practice was clearly part of the revolt against nineteenth century Romanticism and nationalism In contrast Jewish bilingualism is rooted in the long history of exilic existence its modern phase moreover is intimately related to the national revival of the Jewish people As such it fulfilled a unique role time and again literary experiments were conducted first in Yiddish the spoken language and later transferred to Hebrew the romantic classical language of the national renaissance The significance these transfers had for the historical poetics of Hebrew cannot be overestimated They were instrumental in making what was a scriptural literature only a century ago into the modernized lively literature we know today Yet Hebrew did not give in easily It was not until the 1950s for instance that Israeli poetry caught up with the poetic understatement of Western Modernism Two decades earlier however Hebrew Modernism did make a breakthrough in America It was Gabriel Preil a Lithuanian born resident of New York who helped modernize Hebrew verse without so much as visiting the Land of Israel The emergence of his imagistic free verse in the thirties and forties constituted a bold departure from the classical romantic norms of Hebrew at the time Thereafter Israeli modernists adopted him as a precursor naturally attributing his innovations to the influence of Anglo American imagism But there is more to it than that For Preil who is currently approaching his 75th birthday is in fact the latest link in the Jewish tradition of intracultural transfer As this study shows he absorbed his poetic modernism from the New York Yiddish Modernists thereafter transferring it to Hebrew via his autotranslation and dual compositions Yael Feldman here sheds light on this particular and possibly last instance in the history of Jewish bilingualism Yet the significance of her work extends beyond the poetics of Hebrew literature For it offers unique insights into both the mechanism of literary transfer and the constraints operative within it In addition it follows Preil s recent metapoetic journey to the borders of imagism and back thereby illuminating the risks of limitation and dehumanization that have always plagued pure imagism Finally it shows how Preil s life work recapitulates the complex evolution of Western poetic Modernism with all its inherent paradoxes American Book Publishing Record Cumulative 1993 R R Bowker Publishing,1994-03 Cited in BCL3 Sheehy and Walford Compiled from the 12 monthly issues of the ABPR this edition of the annual cumulation lists by Dewey sequence some 41 700 titles for books published or distributed in the US Entry information is derived from MARC II tapes and books submitted to R R Bowker an Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.),1969 Includes subject section name section and 1968 1970 technical reports Dictionary Catalog of the Music Collection New York Public Library.
