Shooting Blind Photographs By The Visually Impaired:

Shooting Blind, 2002 Shooting Blind Photographs by the Visually Impaired Introduction by Edward Hoagland Interviews with the photographers Shooting Blind Photographs by the Visually Impaired gives us entry to another world a reality that is at once mysterious evocative and beautiful arousing a blend of memories and emotions The unique photographs are made by Seeing with Photography a collective of photographers with varying degrees of visual impairment ranging from legal to complete blindness that has been active in New York City for over fifteen years The group uses their cameras to explore the world and better understand themselves while creating luminous works of art These compelling black and white images are made using an old technique called painting with light in which flashlights are used to illuminate the subjects over long exposures in complete darkness Various tactile and audio cues are used while creating the image sometimes an assistant will describe the surroundings for those with the most limited vision and help orient their cameras Through close collaboration the photographers achieve a result of striking imagery imbued with a charged and bristling energy distinct from the ordinary The work represents the collective's response to the world pushing the human form and creating novel translations at times ironic and extravagant The photographic technique incorporates clashing areas of softness and sharpness streakiness and luminous distortions detail and confusion symbolic of the group's shared visual loss Accompanying these richly surreal photographs are interviews with the photographers shedding light on the motivations behind their work Acclaimed novelist and essayist Edward Hoagland's most recent book Compass Points is a memoir which includes a chapter exploring his descent into almost total blindness His first book Cat Man won the 1954 Shooting blind : photographs by the visually impaired. A project of New York City's seeing with photography collective [Anonymus AC03421955], 2002 Foto's gemaakt door een New Yorkse groep visueel gehandicapt Schärfe deinen Blick Roswell Angier, 2008 Disability Studies in India Renu Addlakha, 2020-11-29 Since the 1970s the international disability rights movement the United Nations and national governments across the world have attempted to ameliorate the status of the disabled population through a range of legislative and policy measures primarily in the areas of health education employment accessible environments and social security While the discourse in the disability sector in India has shifted from charity and welfare to human rights and entitlements disability studies as an interdisciplinary academic terrain that focuses on the contributions experiences history and culture of persons with disabilities has not yet taken root This volume collates some of the most recent pioneering work on disability studies from across the country The essays presented here engage with the concept of disability from a variety of disciplinary positions sociocultural contexts and subjective experiences within the overarching framework of the Indian reality The contributors including some with disabilities themselves provide a well rounded perspective in shifting focus from disability as a medical condition only needing clinical intervention to giving it due social and academic legitimacy This book outlines key issues that would be germane to any disability studies endeavour in India and South Asia and will appeal to academics activists institutions laypersons and professionals involved in social welfare sociology disability studies women s studies psychiatry rehabilitation and social and preventive medicine Train Your Gaze Roswell Angier,2007-05-31 What is common to all portrait photographs is a situational element In portrait photography the presence of the photographers gaze also becomes an integral part of what the picture is about the activity of one person looking manifested in a moment that can feel like the blink of an eye or a small eternity This book offers for the first time a complete text that combines the theoretical with the practical Socially Engaged Art History and Beyond Cindy Persinger,Azar Rejaie,2021-02-04 What is socially engaged art history Art history is typically understood as a discipline in which academics produce scholarship for consumption by other academics Today however an increasing number of art historians are seeking to broaden their understanding of art historical praxis and look beyond the academy and towards socially engaged art history This is the first book length study to focus on these growing and significant trends It presents various arguments for the social pedagogical and scholarly benefits of alternative community engaged public facing applied and socially engaged art history The international line up of contributors includes academics museum and gallery curators as well as arts workers The first two sections of the book look at socially engaged art history from theoretical pedagogical and contextual perspectives The concluding part offers a range of provocative case studies that highlight the varied and rigorous work that is being done in this area and provide a variety of inspiring models Taken together the chapters in this book provide much needed disciplinary recognition to socially engaged art history while also serving as a springboard to further theoretical and practical work Concerto for the Left Hand Michael Davidson,2008-06-09 A major new work that probes questions of disability and aesthetics across a range of art forms from Deaf poetry to film noir Atlanta Magazine ,2004-10 Atlanta magazine s editorial mission is to engage our community through provocative writing authoritative reporting and superlative design that illuminate the people the issues the trends and the events that define our city The magazine informs challenges and entertains our readers each month while helping them make intelligent choices not only about what they do and where they go but what they think about matters of importance to the community and the region Atlanta magazine s editorial mission is to engage our community through provocative writing authoritative reporting and superlative design that illuminate the people the issues the trends and the events that define our city The magazine informs challenges and entertains our readers each month while helping them make intelligent choices not only about what they do and where they go but what they think about matters of importance to the community and the region Indianapolis Monthly ,2006-06 Indianapolis Monthly is the Circle City s essential chronicle and guide an indispensable authority on what s new and what s news Through coverage of politics crime dining style business sports and arts and entertainment each issue offers compelling narrative stories and lively urbane coverage of Indy s cultural landscape Aperture ,2006 Aperture 184 Aperture Foundation,2006 Aperture 182 Aperture Foundation,2006 Aperture Aperture Foundation,2005 Library Journal ,2002 Journal
