Shifting Circles Of Support:

Körper, Religion und Macht Ulrike Davis-Sulikowski, 2001 Negotiation and Social Space Carla Risseuw, Kamala Ganesh, 1998 This volume of original essays a companion to Shifting Circles of Support offers a fresh conceptualisation which views individuals and then relationships as crucial elements in the study of family and kinship Tertiary Education in a Time of Change Tricia McLaughlin, Andrea Chester, Belinda Kennedy, Sherman Young, 2020-06-16 This book shares exemplary teaching and learning practices from the tertiary sector and addresses important issues concerning quality scholarship and innovation in teaching and learning in tertiary settings It takes on classic issues regarding curricula technologies and assessment but approaches them from novel perspectives and using a variety of methodological approaches Its chapters explore innovative and cutting edge ideas in tertiary education Readers will be both challenged and inspired to investigate the ideas discussed further Changing Paradigms Paul Redekop, 2007 Paul Redekop taps more than 20 years of experience in restorative justice to conclude that the practice of punishment is a major obstacle to healthy societies families and schools Punishment is so damaging to relationships especially in children that it should be reassessed on philosophical spiritual religious groups Redekop argues The Oxford India Companion to Sociology and Social Anthropology Veena Das, 2003 Contributed articles on sociology and cultural history in Indian context Attitude and Attitude Change Georgian Federation of Psychologists Academic Team, The concept of attitude a fundamental construct in social psychology has been a subject of extensive research and discussion for decades Attitudes defined as learned global evaluations that influence thought and action play a crucial role in shaping human behavior and decision making processes Higbee Wells 1972 Recent developments in the field have shed light on the complex nature of attitudes challenging the traditional unidimensional view and exploring the multifaceted aspects of attitude strength One of the key reasons for the academic interest in attitudes is their ability to predict and understand human behavior As attitudes become more favorable towards an object individuals are more likely to engage with and utilize that object Rucker 2020 However the strength of an attitude independent of its valence is equally important in determining its influence on thought and behavior Stronger attitudes those that are more persistent over time resistant to change and influential on cognition and behavior have been the focus of growing research Eaton et al 2008 Empirical studies have provided insights into the structure and function of attitude strength Attitudes can vary widely in their ability to guide perception shape thoughts and inspire action congruent behaviors Some attitudes profoundly influence our understanding of the world and prompt us to act in accordance with our evaluations while others exert little impact on our thoughts and actions fluctuating over time and easily susceptible to persuasive appeals Eaton et al 2008 The multidimensional nature of attitudes has also been a topic of interest in the field of social psychology Recent research has challenged the traditional unidimensional view of attitudes suggesting that they may possess a more complex structure encompassing cognitive affective and behavioral components This multidimensional perspective has important implications for understanding the mechanisms underlying attitude change and the role of affect in persuasion
