Shipping Developments In Far East Asia:

Shipping Developments in Far East Asia Tae-Woo Lee, 1996 An original contribution to the appreciation and understanding of the development of Korean shipping and how it affects and is indeed affected by the intricate blend of ongoing economic political geographical and social changes within the Asian Pacific region Fleet Development and the Control of Shipping in Southeast Asia Mary R. Brooks, 1985 This occasional paper focuses on international shipping in Southeast Asia reviewing fleet ownership and control in ASEAN and examining the extent of public and private sector ownership in the ASEAN fleets The Economic Development of South-East Asia C. D. Cowan, 2012 First published in 1964 The Economic Development of South East Asia Studies in economic history and political economy contains eight papers originally written for a study group at the School of Oriental and African Studies in London The papers edited by Professor C D Cowan are written against a background of economic underdevelopment in large parts of Asia Economic problems increasingly plagued the governments of Asia after the Second World War and while Western governments were willing to help foster economic development relations with Asian governments were somewhat hindered by the heritage of their colonial past Problems also related to the growth of traditional trading ports and export crops and to the importation of colonial regimes western funds and skills in the nineteenth century Such developments come under the loosely generalised concept of imperialism with its strongly emotional overtones whose use impedes the objective assessment and analysis of facts While we understand a good deal about conditions of economic growth in the West much of what has fostered or retarded growth in other parts of the world remains less clear Lloyd's Ship Manager & Shipping News International ,1990-04 The South African Shipping News and Fishing Industry Review ,1994 Trends in Global and Pacific Trades and Shipping and the Implications for National Maritime Sector Development in Asia's Pacific Rim Countries Hans J.
