The Voyage of the Vizcaína Klaus Brinkbäumer, Clemens Höges, 2007 Between 1492 and 1504 Christopher Columbus made four attempts to find the East by heading West In the process he lost a fair number of ships on his last journey alone he lost no fewer than four Although Columbus also left written documentation of where his boats had gone down no one has been able to locate even one of the wrecks His reports were probably inaccurate perhaps willfully so he was frequently less than truthful about his adventures in the New World In the mid 1990s an American expatriate living in Panama an aging surfer dude who ran a Scuba diving outfitting shop and diving school a Panamanian real estate agent and an American on vacation with his son all claimed to have been the first to locate the remains of a small ship lying in fairly shallow waters in a small gulf in Panama No one took the discovery seriously since it had not been made by a team of established archeologists and scientists Finally in 2002 the authors of this book journalists and amateur divers decided to investigate They organized a team of American scientists all of them experts in carbon dating
