The Cultural Construction of International Relations B. Jahn, 2016-01-18 The discipline of international relations deals with the problem of culture by defining world politics as a state of nature yet it ignores the fact that the concept of the state is itself a cultural product This book uncovers the history of this idea revealing its origins in the European conquest of America its crucial role in the emergence of the Enlightenment world view and its continuing negative consequences for our attempts to understand world politics

The Island of Lost Maps Miles Harvey, 2010-10-06 The Island of Lost Maps tells the story of a curious crime spree the theft of scores of valuable centuries old maps from some of the most prominent research libraries in the United States and Canada The perpetrator was Gilbert Joseph Bland Jr an enigmatic antiques dealer from South Florida whose cross country slash and dash operation had gone virtually undetected until he was caught in 1995 and was unmasked as the most prolific American map thief in history As Miles Harvey unravels the mystery of Bland s life he maps out the world of cartography and cartographic crime weaving together a fascinating story of exploration craftsmanship villainy and the lure of the unknown

The Cambridge History of Science: Volume 6, The Modern Biological and Earth Sciences David C. Lindberg, Peter J. Bowler, Ronald L. Travelling In and Out of Italy Emanuele Occhipinti, 2011-05-25 Travel has often been taken as a metaphor for human life and the concept of travel and the traveller has varied across centuries cultural traditions and social groups Following a diachronic overview of travel writing this study considers some of the most important Italian writers of the late nineteenth and twentieth centuries such as D Annunzio Pirandello Svevo with particular focus on their note books letters travel diaries and reportage An analysis of this material indicates that these authors collect their miscellaneous notes in some cases as private and personal documents and in other instances to possibly develop future articles essays or novels It goes on to focus on the journey par excellence the trip to America regarded as an Eden In many of their works writers such as Ojetti Giacosa Cecchi Piovone express their ambivalence towards a place often idealized as a land of freedom and opportunity yet also acknowledged as a land where oppression and violence are all too real The study attempts to demonstrate how all the traveller writers discussed translate their sense of discovery in their books and the extent to which that sense affects the conception of each of the texts      Explorer Travellers and Adventure Tourism Jennifer Laing, Warwick Frost, 2014-08-04 This book examines the nexus between exploring and tourism and argues that exploration travel based heavily on explorer narratives and the promises of personal challenges and change is a major trend in future tourism In particular it analyses how romanticised myths of explorers form a foundation for how modern day tourists view travel and themselves Its scope ranges from the Golden Age of imperial explorers in the 19th and early 20th centuries through the growth of adventure and extreme tourism to possible future trends including space travel The volume should appeal to researchers and students across a variety of disciplines including tourism studies sociology geography and history

Masters of All They Surveyed D. Graham Burnett, 2000 Chronicling the British pursuit of the legendary El Dorado Masters of All They Surveyed tells the fascinating story of geography cartography and scientific exploration in Britain s unique South American colony Guyana How did nineteenth century Europeans turn areas they called terra incognita into bounded colonial territories How did a tender footed gentleman predisposed to seasickness and unable to swim make his way up churning rivers into thick jungle arid savanna and forbidding mountain ranges survive for the better part of a decade and emerge with a map What did that map mean In answering these questions D Graham Burnett brings to light the work of several such explorers particularly Sir Robert H Schomburgk the man who claimed to be the first to reach the site of Raleigh s El Dorado Commissioned by the Royal Geographical Society and later by the British Crown Schomburgk explored and mapped regions in modern Brazil Venezuela and Guyana always in close contact with Amerindian communities Drawing heavily on the maps reports and letters that Schomburgk sent back to England and especially on the luxuriant images of survey landmarks in his Twelve Views in the Interior of Guiana reproduced in color in this book Burnett shows how a vast network of traverse surveys illustrations and travel narratives not only laid out the official boundaries of British Guiana but also marked out a symbolic landscape that fired the British imperial imagination Engagingly written and beautifully illustrated Masters of All They Surveyed will interest anyone who wants to understand the histories of colonialism and science      Kollektive Identitäten und kulturelle Innovationen Werner Rammert, 2001      The Great Encounter Jayme

A. Sokolow, 2016-07-08 Traditional histories of North and South America often leave the impression that Native American peoples had little impact on the colonies and empires established by Europeans after 1492 This groundbreaking study which spans more than 300 years demonstrates the agency of indigenous peoples in forging their own history and that of the Western Hemisphere By putting the story of the indigenous peoples and their encounters with Europeans at the center a new history of the New World emerges in which the Native Americans become vibrant and vitally important components of the British French Spanish and Portuguese empires In fact their presence was the single most important factor in the development of the colonial world By discussing the great encounter of peoples and cultures this book provides a valuable new perspective on the history of the Americas      Proceedings of the 1999 International Symposium on Coastal and Marine
