Secularism, Islam and Education in India, 1830-1910 Robert Ivermee, 2015-10-06 During the nineteenth century British officials in India decided that the education system should be exclusively secular Drawing on sources from public and private archives Ivermee presents a study of British Muslim negotiations over the secularization of colonial Indian education and on the changing nature of secularism across space and time

The Making of Indian English Literature Subhendu Mund, 2021-07-08 The Making of Indian English Literature brings together seventeen well researched essays of Subhendu Mund with a long introduction by the author historicising the development of the Indian writing in English while exploring its identity among the many appellations tagged to it The volume demonstrates contrary to popular perceptions that before the official introduction of English education in India Indians had already tried their hands in nearly all forms of literature poetry fiction drama essay biography autobiography book review literary criticism and travel writing Besides translation activities Indians had also started editing and publishing periodicals in English before 1835 Through archival research the author brings to discussion a number of unknown and less discussed texts which contributed to the development of the genre The work includes exclusive essays on such early poets and writers as Kylas Chunder Dutt Shoshee Chunder Dutt Toru Dutt Mirza Moorad Alee Beg Krupabai Satthianadhan Swami Vivekananda H Dutt and Sita Chatterjee and historiographical studies on the various aspects of the genre The author also examines the strategies used by the early writers to indianise the western language and the form of the novel The present volume also demonstrates how from the very beginning Indian writing in English had a subtle nationalist agenda and created a space for protest literature The Making of Indian English Literature will prove an invaluable addition to the studies in Indian writing in English as a source of reference and motivation for further research Please note Taylor Francis does not sell or distribute the Hardback in India Pakistan Nepal Bhutan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka

Educating India Amit K. Suman, 2025-01-30 The book delves into the educational challenges that indigenous groups faced during the late 18th and 19th centuries and examines how they responded to these challenges and threats It centres on the historical evolution of education in the Bengal Presidency and the North Western Provinces with a particular emphasis on the roles of pandits maulvis and other influential figures within indigenous society Up until the 19th century questions about the nature of knowledge the most effective methods of transmitting it and the societal responsibilities toward educating the youth were not monopolized by any single entity In most of Europe private actors rather than the state assumed the role of the dominant authority controlling the definition and dissemination of knowledge This trend gradually marginalized local knowledge and traditional ways of life In contrast the colonial state in India did not encourage local agencies to actively participate in the process of knowledge formation Instead under colonialism indigenous institutions and educators became agents of the state It s important to clarify the term indigenous in this context Here it refers to all educational institutions that served the local population taught pre British curricula were staffed by Indian or native teachers and initially received patronage from local elites However over time colonial authorities began providing funding and assuming patronage of these institutions which subsequently led to changes in their structures
