Hendry, 2005-10-20 This book focuses on the renewal or rekindling of cultural identity especially in populations previously considered extinct At the same time Hendry sets out to explain the importance of ensuring the survival of these cultures By drawing a fine and textured picture of these cultures Hendry illuminates extraordinary diversity that was at one point seriously endangered and explains why it should matter in today s world An Anthropological lifetime in Japan Joy

Hendry, 2016-12-05 Joy Hendry s collection demonstrates the value of an anthropological approach to understanding a particular society by taking the reader through her own discovery of the field explaining her practice of it in Oxford and Japan and then offering a selection of the results and findings she obtained Her work starts with a study of marriage made in a small rural community continues with education and the rearing of children and later turns to consider polite language especially amongst women This lead into a study of wrapping and cultural display for example of gardens and theme parks which became a comparative venture putting Japan in a global context Finally the book sums up change through the period of Hendry s research Dismantling the East-West Dichotomy Joy Hendry, Heung Wah Wong, 2006-09-27 It has been customary in the appraisal of the different approaches to the study of Japan anthropology to invoke an East West dichotomy positing hegemonic Western systems of thought against a more authentic Eastern alternative Top scholars in the field of Japan anthropology examine challenge and attempt to move beyond the notion of an East West divide in the study of Japan anthropology They discuss specific fieldwork and ethnographic issues the place of the person within the context of the dichotomy and regional perspectives on the issue Articulating the influence of the East West divide in other disciplines including museum studies religion business and social ecology the book attempts to look towards a new anthropology that transcends the limitations of a simplistic East West opposition taking into account the wealth of regional and global perspectives that are exhibited by contemporary scholarship on Japan anthropology In concluding if the progress achieved in anthropological work on Japan can provide a model for good practice beyond this regional specialization this timely and important book provides a valuable examination of the current state of the academic study of Japan anthropology

Staging Indigenous Heritage Yunci Cai, 2020-08-12 Staging Indigenous Heritage examines the cultural politics of four Indigenous cultural villages in Malaysia Demonstrating that such villages are often beset with the politics of brokerage and representation the book shows that this reinforces a culture of dependency on the brokers By critically examining the relationship between Indigenous tourism and development through the establishment of Indigenous cultural villages the book addresses the complexities of adopting the culture for development paradigm as a developmental strategy Demonstrating that the opportunities for self representation and self determination can become entwined with the politics of brokerage and the contradictory dualism of culture it becomes clear that this can both facilitate and compromise their intended outcomes Challenging the simplistic conceptualisation of Indigenous communities as harmonious and unified wholes the book shows how Indigenous cultures are actively forged struggled over and negotiated in contemporary Malaysia Confronting the largely positive rhetoric in current discourses on the benefits of community based cultural projects Staging Indigenous Heritage should be essential reading for academics and students in the fields of museum studies cultural heritage studies Indigenous studies development studies tourism anthropology and geography The book should also be of interest to museum and heritage professionals around the world Museums and Communities Viv Golding, Wayne Modest, 2013-05-09 With contributions from key scholars in a range of disciplines this engaging new volume explores the complex issues surrounding collaboration between museums and their communities Cambridge Anthropology ,2005 □□□□□□ ,2007
