Grenzen des Menschseins Justin Stagl, Wolfgang Reinhard, 2005. Es geht in diesem Band um eine Definition des Menschen. Was zeichnet das Menschliche vor dem Nichtmenschlichen aus? Diese Frage stellt sich besonders deutlich in drei Grenzbereichen: des Menschlichen zum Nichtmenschlichen, beim Göttlichen, beim Tierischen und beim Maschinellen. Dies sind Aussengrenzen der Menschheit. Daneben gibt es noch Binnengrenzen, die manchmal auch mit den Aussengrenzen interferieren. Bestimmten Menschenkategorien wie Wilden, Barbaren, anderen Rassen, Unmenschen, Sklaven oder Frauen kann das Menschentum teilweise oder völlig abgesprochen werden mit entsprechenden Folgen. Zwei besonders neuralgische Grenzpunkte sind die Geburt und der Tod; hierher gehören etwa Fragen der Abtreibung, der Euthanasie und der Verwertung von Körperteilen. Dieser Band vereint in systematischer Gliederung Beiträge von Naturwissenschaftlern, Philosophen und Theologen.

The Future of Human Evolution Rene J. Herrera, Ralph Garcia-Bertrand, 2025-11-28. The Future of Human Evolution provides a discussion of how cultural, biological, and microevolutionary drift, selection, and mutation pressures might affect our future as a species. The book is split into twelve chapters, beginning with evolutionary forecasting and gene and culture coevolution. It then discusses life expectancy and population growth, followed by chapters on mutation rates, climate change, and diet. This book also explores artificial selection and designer babies, transhumanism, and artificial intelligence, machine-human symbiosis, inequality, and the colonization of space. The Future of Human Evolution serves as a valuable resource for both researchers and students studying human evolution and human population genetics, as well as non-academics with an interest in human evolution. Written in simple, direct, and accessible language for readers from different backgrounds and levels of understanding. Provides information from several disciplines, including evolution, anthropology, general biology, environmental science, computer science, and genetics. Includes a Future Studies section and exam questions on human evolution at the end of each chapter.

Human Origins, 2011. Describes how mapping the human genome has aided paleoanthropologists in their study of ancient bones used to explore human origins from the earliest humans (bipedal apes) up to Martin Pickford's Millennium Man.

Home John S

Allen, 2015-12-29 A leading anthropologist studies the science behind feeling at home to show us how home made us human Home is where the heart is Security comfort even love are all feelings that are centered on the humble abode But what if there is more to the feeling of being at home Neuroanthropologist John S Allen believes that the human habitat is one of the most important products of human cognitive technological and cultural evolution over the past two million years In Home Allen argues that to feel at home is more than just an expression but reflects a deep seated cognitive basis for the human desire to have use and enjoy a place of one's own Allen addresses the very basic question How did a place to sleep become a home Within human evolution he ranks house and home as a signature development of our species as it emerged alongside cooperative hunting language and other critical aspects of humanity Many animals burrow making permanent home bases but primates generally speaking do not most wander making nests at night wherever they might find themselves This is often in home territory but it isn't quite home Our hominid ancestors were wanderers too so how did we over the past several million years find our way home To tell that story Allen will take us through evolutionary anthropology neuroscience the study of emotion and modern sociology He examines the home from the inside of our heads out homes are built with our brains as much as with our hands and tools Allen argues that the thing that may have been most critical in our evolution is not the physical aspect of a home but developing a feeling of defining creating and being in a home whatever its physical form The result was an environment relatively secure against whatever horrors lurked outside that enabled the expensive but creative human mind to reach its full flowering Today with the threat of homelessness child foster care and foreclosure this idea of having a home is more powerful than ever In a clear and accessible writing style Allen sheds light on the deep cognitive sources of the pleasures of having a home the evolution of those behaviors and why the deep reasons why they matter Home is the story about how humans evolved to create a space not only for shelter but also for nurturing creativity innovation and culture and why feeling at home is a fundamental aspect of the human condition Genomes, Evolution, and Culture Rene J. Herrera, Ralph Garcia-Bertrand, Francisco M. Salzano, 2016-05-02 This book combines recent information and discoveries in the field of human molecular biology and human molecular evolution It provides an interdisciplinary approach drawing together data from various diverse disciplines to address both the more classical anthropological content and the current more contemporary molecular focus of courses Chapters include a history of human evolutionary genetics the human genome structure and function population structure and variability gene and genomic dynamics culture health and disease bioethics future
