Mapping Europe's Borderlands Steven Seegel, 2012-05-14 The simplest purpose of a map is a rational one to educate to solve a problem to point someone in the right direction Maps shape and communicate information for the sake of improved orientation But maps exist for states as well as individuals and they need to be interpreted as expressions of power and knowledge as Steven Seegel makes clear in his impressive and important new book Mapping Europe's Borderlands takes the familiar problems of state and nation building in eastern Europe and presents them through an entirely new prism that of cartography and cartographers Drawing from sources in eleven languages including military historical pedagogical and ethnographic maps as well as geographic texts and related cartographic literature Seegel explores the role of maps and mapmakers in the East Central European borderlands from the Enlightenment to the Treaty of Versailles For example Seegel explains how Russia used cartography in the aftermath of the Napoleonic Wars and later formed its geography society as a cover for gathering intelligence He also explains the importance of maps to the formation of identities and institutions in Poland Ukraine and Lithuania as well as in Russia Seegel concludes with a consideration of the impact of cartographers regional and socioeconomic backgrounds educations families career options and available language choices Atlas of Languages of Intercultural Communication in the Pacific, Asia, and the Americas Stephen A. History in Public Space Joanna Wojdon, Dorota Wiśniewska, 2024-08-05 This book focuses on various manifestations of history in public spaces in the physical ones of various historical times and geographical places as well as in the virtual world It discusses how the spaces have been shaped and re shaped by whom and for what not always laudable purposes and raises pragmatical and ethical questions for both research and practical activities in the field By combining both micro and global perspectives the universal role that history plays in spaces created by and for as well as the factors determining its usages is revealed The authors are rooted in specific national contexts Canadian or American Ukrainian or Polish British or Irish German or Luxembourgish Korean or Brazilian and the case studies are varied including large cities and small towns city centers and godforsaken cemeteries but the narratives built on these cases go beyond when
