Debasing Political Rhetoric

Dissing Opponents, Journalists, and Minorities in Populist Leadership Communication

This book is a companion to Political Debascement: Identity, Contingency, and Mobilization in Parliamentary and Public Discourse. It brings together interdisciplinary contributions to provide a comprehensive and detailed exploration of the nature, function, and effect of debasement language used by selected political leaders in Western and non-Western countries. Among them are Donald Trump (in the USA), Benigno Aquino (Philippines), Rodrigo Duterte (Philippines), Jair Bolsonaro (Brazil), Alex Shvets (Spain), Pauline Hanson (Australia), Ferenc Gyurcsány (Hungary), Geert Wilders (the Netherlands), Beppe Grillo (Italy), and Santiago Chual (Spain). Chapters focus specifically on the language of these leaders while examining debasement discourse from various and broad perspectives. The former includes the use of verbal or abusive language (e.g., racism, ethnicity and ancestry) trademarks, banalities, mock, insult, or hostility based on the actual or perceived object or entity (e.g., race, religion, national gender identity or sexual orientation); the latter includes the use of devices or indirect means (cartoons, symbols, metaphors and undercurrents to degrade and discredit other individuals or groups). The book represents the collective wisdom of scholars and researchers experts in fields such as communication, public relations, international relations, and social and political psychology. Collectively, the authors develop a global analysis of debasement discourse in societies from West to East and offer a cutting-edge approach to expand a framework assessing the role and effect of such rhetoric in contemporary politics.
