Entrepreneurial Learning Richard Harrison, Claire M. Leitch, 2008-01-31 This book addresses the burgeoning interest in organizational learning and entrepreneurship bringing together for the first time a collection of new papers dealing explicitly with entrepreneurial learning Where past books have examined learning in a corporate context Harrison and Leitch focus instead on the learning process within entrepreneurship and the small business Areas covered include a review of the concept of entrepreneurial learning and the relationship between entrepreneurial learning and the wider literatures on management and organizational learning a review and development of a number of conceptual models of the process of learning in entrepreneurial contexts an illustration of the applications of concept of entrepreneurial learning in a range of contexts an international perspective on entrepreneurial learning

Ritual and Symbol in Peacebuilding Lisa Schirch, 2005 Serves as a guide to using ritual acts in peacebuilding efforts Abundant with examples of symbolic acts that aided the peace process Conflict is dramatic In theater literature story telling and news reporting it is a powerful mechanism that draws attention heightens the senses and evokes emotion Schirch argues that peacebuilding has the potential to do just the same Examples of peacebuilding often center on the serious rational negotiations and formal problem solving efforts in conflict situations Schirch argues though that what truly bonds adversaries and helps achieve peace are the symbolic non verbal ritual acts shaking hands sharing a meal showing a photograph of a loved one Yet these are often overlooked as deliberate components of peace negotiations Ritual and Symbol in Peacebuilding underscores the importance of incorporating symbolic tools including ritual into traditional approaches to conflict Ritual assists in solving complex deep rooted conflicts and helps to confirm and transform worldviews identities and relationships With theories and language to explain the symbolic dimensions of conflict this text will be useful to scholars and practitioners active in the diverse field of peacebuilding

Narrative Inquiry D. Jean Clandinin, F. Michael Connelly, 2004-08-13 The literature on narrative inquiry has been until now widely scattered and theoretically incomplete Clandinin and Connelly have created a major tour de force This book is lucid fluid beautifully argued and rich in examples Students will find a wealth of arguments to support their research and teaching faculty will find everything they need to teach narrative inquiry theory and methods Yvonna S Lincoln professor Department of Educational Administration Texas A M University Understanding experience as lived and told stories also known as narrative inquiry has gained popularity and credence in qualitative research Unlike more traditional methods narrative inquiry successfully captures personal and human dimensions that cannot be quantified into dry facts and numerical data In this definitive guide Jean Clandinin and Michael Connelly draw from more than twenty years of field experience to show how narrative inquiry can be used in educational and social science research Tracing the origins of narrative inquiry in the social sciences they offer new and practical ideas for conducting fieldwork composing field notes and conveying research results Throughout the book stories and examples reveal a wide range of narrative methods Engaging and easy to read Narrative Inquiry is a practical resource from experts who have long pioneered the use of narrative in qualitative research Transformative Learning in Practice Jack Mezirow, Edward W. Taylor, 2011-01-04 The leading authorities in the field produced this comprehensive resource which provides strategies and methods for fostering Transformative Learning TL practice in a wide variety of higher and adult education settings The book answers relevant questions such as What are effective practices for promoting TL in the classroom What is it about TL that is most helpful in informing practice How does the teaching setting shape the practice of TL What are the successes strengths and outcomes of fostering TL What are the risks and challenges when practicing TL in the classroom Der Diskurs des Möglichen Peter M. Krakauer, Christoph Khittl, Monika Mittendorfer, 1999 New Books on Women and Feminism , 1993 Aging Literacies Angela Crow, 2006 This book takes up the complicated question of writing faculty development and the training necessary to address shifting definitions of literate acts Specifically it focuses on issues of aging addressing both attitudes toward aging literacies and the role that age plays in the acquisition of new literacy practices It suggests the necessity of becoming more literate about how current research on aging might impact the field of rhetoric and composition studies Handbook of Sustainability Research Walter Leal Filho, 2005 This handbook introduces concepts ideas and methods of sustainability research based on real examples It is divided into four sections One part deals with theoretical aspects of sustainability and refers to theoretical approaches to sustainability research Another section elaborates on more practical approaches to sustainability research offering views and perspectives from various researchers illustrating how regulations laws and political frameworks influence sustainability A third part treats education for sustainability and presents research and practical projects showcasing how sustainability research may focus in formal and non formal education The final section draws some conclusions based on the body of experiences and knowledge gathered by the authors This handbook will be of great use to educators scientists researchers politicians environment activists teachers and others interested in sustainability and in the implementation of results of sustainability research

Democracy, Education, and the Schools Roger Soder, 1996 Democracy Education and the Schools argues that the most basic purpose of America s schools is to teach children the moral and intellectual responsibilities of living and working in a democracy Leading scholars from the fields of education history political science and anthropology explore what democracy is and what it means for preparing teachers and teaching students They discuss critical questions about the relationship between the American democracy and a free public school system including To what extent should the enculturation of the young into American democracy be a major function of the schools How can students best learn to understand and participate in American democracy What should the schools teach to convey to the young their rights and responsibilities as citizens What must teachers know in order to teach children their rights and responsibilities in an effective way Roger Soder and his contributors ultimately show that there is a necessary relationship between democracy and the public school system and privatization of the schools runs the risk of destroying the fundamental underpinnings of the

American democracy Paideuma ,2004 Visual Arts Research ,1994 Willing to Learn Mary Catherine Bateson,2004 WRITER AND EDUCATOR Mary Catherine Bateson is best known for the proposal that lives should be looked at as compositions each one an artistic creation expressing individual responses to the unexpected This collection can be read as a memoir of unfolding curiosity for it brings together essays and occasional pieces many of them previously unpublished or unknown to readers who know the author only from her books written in the course of an unconventional career Bateson s professional life was interrupted repeatedly She responded by refocusing her curiosity by being willing to learn The connections and echoes between the entries in her book are as intriguing as the contrasts in style and subject matter The work is grounded in cultural anthropology but shaped by the observation that in a world of rapid change and encounters with strangers individuals can no longer depend on following traditionally defined paths Willing to Learn is arranged thematically One section includes a sampling of writings about Bateson s parents anthropologists Margaret Mead and Gregory Bateson The longest section focuses primarily on the contemporary United States and deals with life stages and gender Bateson argues that because women s lives have changed most radically women are pioneers of emerging patterns that will affect everyone Another section deals with belief systems conflict and change especially in the Middle East and the final section with different ways of knowing Bateson is a singular thinker whose work enriches lives by bringing fresh original ideas to subjects that affect all of our lives Willing to Learn is at once an articulation of and an enduring testament to the artistic creation Bateson has produced pursuing her own life s work Schooled in Diversity Pat Macpherson,2001

Common Fire Laurent A. Daloz,1996 How can all of us encourage commitment to society as a whole both in the next generation and in ourselves This landmark book answers these questions by looking at more than one hundred people in many walks of life who live and work on behalf of the common good The voices of these diverse individuals and the authors careful analysis show that family and community relationships education the workplace the arts religion and media all matter they can all help or hinder the formation of a life of commitment English Journal ,2004 Whole Earth ,1999
