Persistent Permeability Regionalism Localism And Global:

Regionalism, Globalisation and International Order Jens-Uwe Wunderlich, 2016-03-23 New regionalism and globalization have been prominent themes in academic and political debates since the beginning of the 1990s Despite the considerable amount of scholarly attention that the new regionalism has received in recent years its full empirical and theoretical potential has yet to be fully investigated This illuminating study provides an overview of new avenues in theorizing regionalism and proposes a consolidated framework for analysis and comparison Offering a comparative historical perspective of European and Southeast Asian regionalism it presents new and imaginative insights into the theory and practice of regionalism and the links between regional developments globalization and international order Global and Regional Problems Vilho Harle, 2016-04-22 Distinctive due to explicit and systematically developed links between international relations IR and related disciplines this book addresses global and regional interactions and the complex policy problems that often characterise this agenda Such enhanced communication is crucial for improving the capacity of IR to engage with concrete issues that today are of high policy relevance for international organisations states diplomats mediators and humankind in general Whilst the authors do not reject the present IR they offer a wider research agenda with new directions intended not only for those IR scholars who are unsatisfied with the analytical power of the current discipline but also for those working on international foreign global or interregional issues in other disciplines and fields of research In this instance they pay particular attention to linking up with peace research international political economy IPE and cultural political economy CPE sociology political geography development studies linguistics cultural studies environmental studies and energy research gender studies and traditions of area studies Regions, Power, and Conflict William R. Thompson, Thomas J. Volgy, Paul Bezerra, Jacob Cramer, Kelly Marie Gordell, Manjeet Pardesi, Karen Rasler, J. Patrick Rhamey Jr., Kentaro Sakuwa, Rachel Van Nostrand, Leila Zakhirova, 2022-08-16 The three main levels of analysis in international relations have been the systemic the national and the individual A fourth level that falls between the systemic and the national is the region It is woefully underdeveloped in comparison to the attention afforded the other three Yet regions tend to be distinctive theaters for international politics Otherwise we would not recognize that Middle Eastern interstate politics somehow does not resemble Latin American interstate politics or interstate politics in Southern Africa although once the Middle East and Southern Africa may have seemed more similar in their mutual fixation with opposition to domestic policies in Israel and South Africa respectively This book divided into three parts first makes a case for studying regional politics even though it must also be appreciated that regional boundaries are also hazy and not always easy to pin down empirically The second part examines power distributions within regions as an important entry point to studying regional similarities and differences Two emphases are stressed One is that regional power assessments need to be conditioned by controlling for weak states which are more common in some regions than they are in others The other emphasis is on regional power hierarchies Some regions have strong regional hierarchies while others do not Regions with strong hierarchies operate much differently from those without them in the sense that the former are more pacific than the latter The third part of the book focuses on regional differences in terms of conflict behavior order preferences rivalries and rivalry termination

Persistent Permeability? Bassel F. Salloukh, Rex Brynen, 2004 Addressing a number of timely questions from varied analytical perspectives this volume will prove essential for all those interested in Middle East politics and international relations

Governing Regional Integration for Development Antoni Estevadeordal, 2016-04-22 Developing countries have joined the rapidly growing global system of regional trade agreements RTAs over the past years The drive towards regional integration has advanced with the formation of new markets and groups in Latin America Africa Asia the Middle East and Oceania with few developing countries remaining outside these regional schemes This volume looks at how getting governance right is a central element for successful RTA implementation taking stock of the quality and effectiveness of the monitoring of development country RTAs around the world Organized by the main world regions and primarily focusing on developing country RTAs the book also includes two case studies focused on monitoring in developed country regional agreements by way of comparison The contributors operationalize governance in the context of RTA implementation with a more narrow and technical term of monitoring and provide eight important lessons for assessing monitoring around the world

Foreign Policy in Iran and Saudi Arabia Robert Mason, 2014-12-22 Saudi Arabia with its US alliance and abundance of oil dollars has a very different economic story to that of Iran which despite enormous natural gas reserves has been hit hard by economic trade scientific and military sanctions since its 1979 revolution Robert Mason looks at the effect that economic considerations such as oil gas sanctions trade and investment have on foreign policy decision making processes and diplomatic activities By examining the foreign policies of Saudi Arabia and Iran towards each other and towards the wider Middle East and beyond Mason seeks to highlight how oil policy including oil production pricing and security of supply and demand is the paramount economic factor which drives the diplomacy and rivalry of these two pivotal regional powers By comparing the foreign policy of Saudi Arabia and Iran towards the international community and the US in particular Mason presents the very different economic and political trajectories of these two countries In the case of Saudi Arabia it has long been oil which has given the country importance both within the region and on an international scale This has made it a vital ally for the West which culminated in the stationing of US troops on Saudi soil in the run up to the Gulf War of 1991 In contrast Iran's resistance strategy has rather than concentrating on relationships with the West instead looked to a number of other players such as those in Central Asia and Latin America Mason uses the Saudi and Iranian cases to illustrate the combination of ideological geo strategy and economic resources that have insulated these two regimes against internal and external pressures and resulted in their dominance in the regional system By concentrating on the economic factors in alliance building and alliance deconstruction Mason offers vital analysis for researchers of international relations in the Middle East and the processes involved in the formation of foreign policy Journal of Mediterranean Studies ,2004 Bibliographie Mensuelle United Nations Library (Geneva, Switzerland),2005 IBSS: Political Science: 2005 Vol. 54 The British Library of Political and Economic Science,2006-11-03 First published in 1952 the International Bibliography of the Social Sciences anthropology economics political science and sociology is well established as a major bibliographic reference for students researchers and librarians in the social sciences worldwide Key features Authority Rigorous standards are applied to make the IBSS the most authoritative selective bibliography ever produced Articles and books are selected on merit by some of the world s most expert librarians and academics Breadth Today the IBSS covers over 2000 journals more than any other comparable resource The latest monograph publications are also included International Coverage The IBSS reviews scholarship published in over thirty languages including publications from Eastern Europe and the developing world User friendly organization all non English titles are word sections Extensive author subject and place name indexes are provided in both English and French Index Islamicus ,2007 Demilitarisation and Peace-building in Southern Africa: National and regional experiences Peter Batchelor,Kees Kingma,Guy Lamb,2004 Volume II presents a number of national and regional case studies which deal with some of the most important practical and crosscutting issues related to demilitarization and peace building in Southern Africa Demilitarisation and Peace-building in Southern Africa: Concepts and processes Peter Batchelor,Kees Kingma,Guy Lamb,2004 Volume I provides a conceptual framework for the analysis of demilitarization and peace building processes applicable particularly in the Southern Africa context This volume argues that a broad concept of peace building has to take into account economic political social and cultural factors at the local national and regional level Demilitarisation and Peace-building in Southern Africa: The role of the military in state formation and nation-building Peter Batchelor,Kees Kingma,Guy Lamb,2004 Based on a collaborative research project this trilogy considers the dynamics of demilitarisation and peace building in southern Africa in the aftermath of major violent conflicts The overall aim of the research is to support and facilitate the achievement of sustainable peace and human development in southern Africa by analysing demilitarisation and peace building processes in the region and identifying policy options and interventions for peace building The central focus of the research is the extent to which demilitarisation following the termination of wars has contributed to broad processes of peace building in the affected region Has the military in southern Africa downsized and refocused towards new roles Has there been a peace dividend allowing more investment in economic and human development thereby dealing with some of the root causes of conflict Volume III considers the role that the military has played in state formation and nation building in five southern African countries namely Botswana Mozambique Namibia South Africa and Zimbabwe Asia Pacific and Human Rights Paul Close,David Askew,2004 This volume focuses on key issues and developments in human rights It is based around an examination of the links between the evolving global human rights regime GHRR and the character and course of human rights in the world's most dynamic complex and problematic region that of the Asia Pacific The Iraq War Rick Fawn, Raymond A. Hinnebusch, 2006 While the war in Afghanistan saw most industrial countries back the US led campaign the subsequent war in Iraq has profoundly divided international opinion and likely represents a watershed in the post Cold War international order The Iraq War examines the full range of explanations of the conflict as well as its significance for the Middle East for key international relationships and for the future of the international system The authors critically assess the foreign policy decisions of both global and regional actors What policies were adopted and against what opposition What state interests were served or compromised in the process What are the likely longer term consequences of each country's position Addressing these questions as well as broader issues of regional stability global political economy and the changing nature of warfare they offer an in depth systematic analysis that brings clarity to this complex subject Persistent Permeability? Bassel F. Salloukh, 2017-03-02 With the collapse of the Middle East peace process the war on terrorism and US led intervention in Iraq the question of Middle East regionalism's has reached a new salience Will such developments usher in a new wave of transnational politics as events reverberate through a Middle East made even more permeable by new information technologies and transregional religious networks Or will authoritarian states successfully insulate themselves from such effects What impact will globalization have on local identities and local politics To what extent might issues of regional permeability be mediated by class gender ethnicity population migration or other factors The contributors to Persistent Permeability address such questions from a variety of analytical perspectives In doing so they offer a valuable contribution essential for all those interested in Middle East politics and international relations The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2005 Journal of Palestine Studies, 2006 □□□□, 2005 Globalism and the New Regionalism Osvaldo Sunkel, András Inotai, 2016-07-27 This is the first of five volumes reporting on the UNU WIDER study on New Regionalism It deals with the conceptions and meanings of two processes which probably will have a crucial influence on the shape of the new world order globalization and regionalization These studies relate to each other as challenge to response globalization being the challenge of economic and cultural homogenization of the world and regionalization being a social and political reaction The leading writers in the field contribute thought provoking and fascinating articles to this volume
