Countdown Alan Weisman, 2013-09-24 Every four days there are a million more people on the planet More people and fewer resources In this timely work Alan Weisman examines how we can shrink our collective human footprint so that we don't stomp any more species including our own out of existence The answer reducing gradually and non violently the number of humans on the planet whose activities industries and lifestyles are damaging the Earth Defining an optimum human population for the Earth is an explosive concept Weisman one of the most brilliant environmental writers will travel the globe from the settlements of Israel and the plains of Mexico to the bustling streets of Pakistan and the teeming cities of the UK In his search for answers he will speak to religious leaders demographers ecologists economists engineers and agriculturalists in what promises to be an international classic

Children's Literature, Domestication, and Social Foundation Layla AbdelRahim, 2014-12-05 This study of children's literature as knowledge culture and social foundation bridges the gap between science and literature and examines the interconnectedness of fiction and reality as a two way road The book investigates how the civilized narrative orders experience by means of segregation domestication breeding and extermination arguing instead that the stories and narratives of wilderness project chaos and infinite possibilities for experiencing the world through a diverse community of life AbdelRahim engages these narratives in a dialogue with each other and traces their expression in the various disciplines and books written for both children and adults analyzing the manifestation of fictional narratives in real life This is both an inter and multi disciplinary endeavor that is reflected in the combination of research methods drawn from anthropology and literary studies as well as in the tracing of the narratives of order and chaos or civilization and wilderness in children's literature and our world Chapters compare and contrast fictional children's books that offer different real world socio economic paradigms such as A A Milne's Winnie the Pooh projecting a civilized monarcho capitalist world Nikolai Nosov's trilogy on The Adventures of Dunno and Friends presenting the challenges and feats of an anarcho socialist society in evolution from primitivism towards technology and Tove Jansson's Moominbooks depicting the harmony of anarchy chaos and wildness AbdelRahim examines the construction transmission and acquisition of knowledge in children's literature by visiting the very nature of literature culture and language and the civilized structures that domesticate the world She brings radically new perspectives to the knowledge culture and construction of human beings making an invaluable contribution to a wide range of disciplines and for those engaged in revolutionizing contemporary debates on the nature of knowledge human identity and the world
