Portraits and Perceptions Eric Boormeester, 2002-08     The Art Museum as Educator Council on Museums and Education in the Visual Arts, Barbara Y. Newsom, Adele Z. Silver, 1978     Merleau-Ponty and the Art of Perception Duane H. Davis, William S. Hamrick, 2016-03-01 This collection of essays brings together diverse but interrelated perspectives on art and perception based on the philosophy of Maurice Merleau Ponty Although Merleau Ponty focused almost exclusively on painting in his writings on aesthetics this collection also considers poetry literary works theater and relationships between art and science In addition to philosophers the contributors include a painter a photographer a musicologist and an architect This widened scope offers important philosophical benefits testing and providing evidence for the empirical applicability of Merleau Ponty's aesthetic writings The central argument is that for Merleau Ponty the account of perception is also an account of art and vice versa In the philosopher's writings art and perception thus intertwine necessarily rather than contingently such that they can only be distinguished by abstraction As a result his account of perception and his account of art are organic interdependent and dynamic The contributors examine various aspects of this intertwining across different artistic media each ingeniously revealing an original perspective on this intertwining

Photography Michelle Henning, 2023-01-06 We live in a time in which photographs have become extraordinarily mobile They can be exchanged and circulated at the swipe of a finger across a screen The digital photographic image appears and disappears with a mere gesture of the hand Yet this book argues that this mobility of the image was merely accelerated by digital media and telecommunications Photographs from the moment of their invention set images loose by making them portable reproducible projectable reduced in size and multiplied The fact that we do not associate analogue photography with such mobility has much to do with the limitations of existing histories and theories of photography which have tended to view photographic mobility as either an incidental characteristic or a fault Photography The Unfettered Image traces the emergence of these ways of understanding photography but also presents a differently nuanced and materialist history in which photography is understood as part of a larger development of media technologies It is situated in much broader cultural contexts caught up in the European colonial ambition to grasp the world and in the development of a new artificial second nature dependent on the large scale processing of animal and mineral materials Focussing primarily on Victorian and 1920s 30s practices and theories it demonstrates how photography was never simply a technology for fixing a fleeting reality

Visual Allusions Nicholas Wade, 1990 In this book a leading researcher and artist explores how we see pictures and how they can communicate messages to us both directly and indirectly by making allusions to objects in space or to stored images in our minds Dr Wade provides fascinating examples of pictures that communicate hidden messages either by implying something else or by a shape or portrait which is carried covertly within another design He analyses image processing stages in vision demonstrating that the various stages may be related to styles in representational art He shows how the way we have been taught to look at and recognise objects affects the way we see them The book lavishly illustrates with original examples of visual allusions and includes detailed practical advice on how photographers and designers can create them Essential reading for photographers designers artists people in film and television and anyone involved in visual science visual communication and advertising      Time Perception and Dysfunction: Clinical and Practical Implications Deana Davalos, Giovanna Mioni, Simon Grondin, Felipe Ortuño, 2019-02-19 Processing time requires a complex set of abilities that dictates how one adapts to the environment Timing is key in how we communicate organize our space and understand the world When timing is intact it often exists below one's conscious awareness but when one's ability to process time is disrupted the effects are noticeable and widespread To better understand the construct of temporal dysfunction one has to examine the concept of timing from multiple angles An integrative approach is required to understand the possible biological cognitive and psychological etiologies of temporal dysfunction In addition expertise in language measurement and psychopathology are necessary to comprehend how timing affects one's representation of the world This Research Topic is dedicated to examining timing and temporal dysfunction across a variety of tasks and disorders Specifically we seek to understand the most basic types of timing dysfunction and how they may affect a wide range of behaviors and symptoms as well as higher levels of temporal deficits involved in how one perceives the time spent This Research Topic represents the intersection of medicine psychology cognition and perception in a unified attempt to shed light on temporal processing The collection of original research articles and case studies highlighting novel methodologies and interventions illustrates the complexity of timing dysfunction and how understanding these deficits helps us to get a fresh look at a wide range of clinical psychopathologies and to develop better interventions      World Art: Conceptual designs: diagrams and geometric patterns. Depiction and perception Irving Lavin, 1989      Space, Images, and Art Perception in Napoleonic Paris Camilla Murgia, 2025-10-01 This book examines the impact of space on the perception of art and visual culture in early nineteenth century Paris It turns its attention to the way in which space determines the understanding and the development of visual culture The abundance of images their status and their employment alike offer a means to grasp the extent of the development of an approach to art which further involved the spectator Space is here conceived as a multifaceted entity spanning architectural scholarly artistic and visual dimensions These various aspects offer means to consider the way in which images work and are consumed and the individual experience they represent Space works as a link and a connecting tool between different intellectual and visual categories and this study examines how this interaction applies to works of art as well as everyday objects      The Perception of Pictures Margaret A. Hagen, 2014-05-10 Durer's Devices Beyond the Projective Model of Pictures is a collection of papers that discusses the nature of picture making and perception One paper presents a perceptual theory of pictorial representation in which cultural and historical options in styles of depiction that appear to be different are actually closely related perceptually Another paper discusses pictorial functions and perceptual structures including pictorial representation perceptual theory flat canvass and the deep world One paper suggests that perception can be more a matter of information make up than pick up Light becomes somewhat informative and the eye correspondingly becomes less or more presumptive Another paper notes that human vision is transformed by our modes of representation that image formation can be essentially incomplete false or misleading primarily as regards dramatic performance and pictorial representation One paper makes three claims that 1 the blind have untapped depiction abilities 2 haptics involving the sense of touch have an intuitive sense of perspective and 3 depiction is perceptual based on graphic elements and pictorial configurations The collection is suitable for psychologists physiologists psychophysicists and researchers in human perception or phenomenology Recording for the Blind & Dyslexic, ... How Do Behavior Science Interventions to Reduce Environmental Impacts Work in The Real World? Christian Andreas Klöckner,Jens Røyrvik,Giuseppe Carrus ,Michael Niederkofler,2025-11-27 Behavioral sciences encompassing environmental psychology behavioral economics social anthropology and sociology have significantly advanced our understanding of how individual social economic and structural factors contribute to pro environmental actions These insights have facilitated the development of intervention strategies that have yielded impressive results under controlled conditions However the primary challenge lies in scaling these interventions from small scale or laboratory settings to real world applications involving millions determining how these can be adapted and managed by non scientists across diverse populations The objective of this research topic is to compile a series of studies and papers that investigate the real world application of behavioral science interventions This involves analyzing the transition from well funded pilot programs to large scale implementations identifying the necessary conditions and considerations that influence the effectiveness of these interventions when deployed widely By understanding these dynamics the research seeks to transform academic concepts into practical tools that enable individuals to modify their behaviors such as reducing energy consumption thereby addressing significant environmental challenges We welcome contributions that Evaluate which interventions are most effective for specific demographic groups Analyze the role of cultural factors in the success of environmental strategies Investigate the influence of communication channels and spokespersons in intervention adoption Share insights from collaborative efforts between scientists and stakeholders such as NGOs or local governments Discuss inclusivity in behavioral campaigns especially concerning marginalized groups Offer solutions for reaching and influencing reluctant populations Develop tools to simplify the application of behavioral science by non experts Contribute to effective dialogue about behavioral science that resonates with the general public Bridge the gap between theoretical research and practical application needs
