Oscar Predictions Latest Returns:

Predicting the Winner Ira Chinoy, 2024-05 Winner of the Ray Hiebert History of Journalism Published Work Award The history of American elections changed profoundly on the night of November 4 1952 An outside the box approach to predicting winners from early returns with new tools computers was launched live and untested on the newest medium for news television Like exhibits in a freak show computers were referred to as electronic brains and mechanical monsters Yet this innovation would help fuel an obsession with numbers as a way of understanding and shaping politics It would engender controversy down to our own time And it would herald a future in which the public square would go digital The gamble was fueled by a crisis of credibility stemming from faulty election night forecasts four years earlier in 1948 combined with a lackluster presentation of returns What transpired in 1952 is a complex tale of responses to innovation which Ira Chinoy makes understandable via a surprising history of election nights as venues for rolling out new technologies refining methods of prediction and providing opportunities for news organizations to shine In Predicting the Winner Chinoy tells in detail for the first time the story of the 1952 election night a night with continuing implications for the way forward from the dramatic events of 2020 21 and for future election nights in the United States How to Predict the Unpredictable William

Poundstone, 2014-09-04 We are hard wired to believe that the world is more predictable than it is We chase winning streaks that are often just illusions and we are all too predictable exactly when we try hardest not to be In the 1970s Daniel Kahneman and Amos Tversky coined the phrase representativeness to describe the psychology of this behaviour Since then representativeness has been used by auditors to catch people fiddling their tax returns and by hedge fund managers to reap billions from the emotions of small investors Now Poundstone for the first time makes these techniques fun easy and profitable for everyone in the everyday situations that matter You ll learn how to tackle multiple choice tests what internet passwords to avoid how to up your odds of winning the office Premier League sweepstakes and the best ways to invest your money AI for You Shalini Kapoor, Sameep Mehta, 2022-12-05 Artificial Intelligence is all around us It is set to transform

Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific, 1986 The research reports and statements by government representatives contained in this volume were presented at the Policy Workshop on International Migration in Asia and the Pacific held at Bangkok from 15 21 October 1985 The workshop was the final activity of a 2 year Economic and Social

Commission for Asia and the Pacific ESCAP project on international migration policy in Asia and the Pacific funded by the UN Fund for Population Activities The 2nd phase of the project includes the studies reported in this volume which were intended to be exploratory They were meant to assess the current state of knowledge regarding return migration and to identify critical issues that would require further investigation 5 of the studies are concerned with return migration from temporary employment primarily in the Middle East Because many of the labor sending countries of the Mediterranean basin experienced a rapid expansion of labor emigration largely to northern and western Europe and a contraction of the flow and increase in return migration prior to current trends in Asian labor migration it was felt that a background paper on that experience would be value to policy makers in the ESCAP region Migration from the Pacific sub region of ESCAP is both of more variable duration and less heavily labor oriented than temporary migration from Asian countries to the Middle East The workshop s objectives were 1 to bring together researchers and policy makers to review carefully the results of the 7 studies carried out as part of the project 2 to relate the research findings to feasible government policies for the reintegration of returning labor migrants and 3 to make and disseminate policy recommendations to governments in the ESCAP region
