Selective History Of Theories Of Visual:

Selective History of Theories of Visual Perception Nicholas Pastore, 1971 Selective history of theories of visual perception: 1650-1950 Nicholas Pastore, 1971 Concepts in Film Theory J. Dudley Andrew, 1984-03-15 Concepts in Film Theory is a continuation of Dudley Andrew's classic The Major Film Theories. In writing now about contemporary theory, Andrew focuses on the key concepts in film study: perception, representation, signification, narrative structure, adaptation, evaluation, identification, figuration, and interpretation. Beginning with an introductory chapter on the current state of film theory, Andrew goes on to build an overall view of film, presenting his own ideas on each concept and giving a sense of the interdependence of these concepts. Andrew provides lucid explanations of theories which involve perceptual psychology and structuralism, semiotics, and psychoanalysis, hermeneutics, and genre study. His clear approach to these often obscure theories enables students to acquire the background they need to enrich their understanding of film and of art. The Routledge Companion to Eighteenth Century Philosophy Aaron Garrett, 2014-03-21 The Eighteenth century is one of the most important periods in the history of Western philosophy, witnessing philosophical, scientific, and social and political change on a vast scale. In spite of this, there are few single volume overviews of the philosophy of the period as a whole. The Routledge Companion to Eighteenth Century Philosophy is an authoritative survey and assessment of this momentous period, covering major thinkers, topics, and movements in Eighteenth century philosophy. Beginning with a substantial introduction by Aaron Garrett, the thirty-five specially commissioned chapters by an outstanding team of international contributors are organised into seven clear parts: Context and Movements; Metaphysics and Understanding Mind; Soul and Perception; Morals and Aesthetics; Politics and Society; Philosophy in relation to the Arts and Sciences; Major Figures. Major topics and themes are explored and discussed, ranging from materialism, free will, and personal identity to the emotions, the social contract, aesthetics, and the sciences, including mathematics and biology. The final section examines in more detail three figures central to the period: Hume, Rousseau, and Kant. As such, The Routledge Companion to Eighteenth Century Philosophy is essential reading for all students of the period, both in philosophy and related disciplines such as politics, literature, history, and religious studies. Color and Culture John Gage, 1999 An encyclopaedic work on color in Western art and culture from the Middle Ages to Post Modernism. Theories of Visual Attention - linking cognition, neuropsychology, and neurophysiology Søren Kyllingsbæk, Signe Allerup Vangkilde, Claus Bundesen, 2015-09-02 The Neural Theory of Visual Attention of Bundesen, Habekost, and Kyllingsbæk 2005 was proposed as a neural interpretation of Bundesen's 1990 theory of visual attention (TVA). In NTVA, visual attention functions via two mechanisms: by dynamic remapping of receptive fields of cortical cells such that more cells are devoted to behaviorally important objects than to less important ones; filtering, and by multiplicative scaling of the level of activation in cells coding for particular features. NTVA accounts for a wide range of known attentional effects in human performance and a wide range of effects observed in firing rates of single cells in the primate.

visual system and thus provides a mathematical framework to unify the 2 fields of research In this Research Topic of Frontiers in Psychology some of the leading theories of visual attention at both the cognitive neuropsychological and neurophysiological levels are presented and evaluated In addition the Research Topic encompasses application of the framework of NTVA to various patient populations and to neuroimaging as well as genetic and psychopharmacological studies

Perception of the Visual Environment Ronald G. Boothe,2006-04-12 Aimed at students taking a course on visual perception this textbook considers what it means for a man a monkey and a computer to perceive the world After an introduction and a discussion of methods the book deals with how the environment produces a physical effect how the resulting image is processed by the brain or by computer algorithms in order to produce a perception of something out there It also discusses color form motion distance and also the sensing of three dimensionality before dealing with visual perception and its role in awareness and consciousness The book concludes with discussions of perceptual development blindness and visual disorders Visual perception is by its very nature an interdisciplinary subject that requires a basic understanding of a range of topics from diverse fields and this is a very readable guide to all students whether they come from a neuroscience psychology cognitive science robotics or philosophy background
