Personality And Education:

The Unfolding of Personality as the Chief Aim in Education Thiselton Mark, 1910 Personality in Education James Potter Conover, 1908 Personality and Learning Methodology Handbook Ann Floyd, 1976 Resources in Education, 1975 Handbook of Educational Psychology Lyn Corno, Eric M. Anderman, 2015-07-06

The third edition of the Handbook of Educational Psychology is sponsored by Division 15 of the American Psychological Association. In this volume, thirty chapters address new developments in theory and research methods while honoring the legacy of the field's past. A diverse group of recognized scholars within and outside the U.S. provide integrative reviews and critical syntheses of developments in the substantive areas of psychological inquiry in education, functional processes for learning, learner readiness and development, building knowledge and subject matter expertise, and the learning and task environment. New chapters in this edition cover topics such as learning sciences research, latent variable models, data analytics, neuropsychology, relations between emotion, motivation, and volition, EMOVO, scientific literacy, sociocultural perspectives on learning, dialogic instruction, and networked learning. Expanded treatment has been given to relevant individual differences, underlying processes, and new research on subject matter acquisition. The Handbook of Educational Psychology, Third Edition, provides an indispensable reference volume for scholars in education and the learning sciences, broadly conceived, as well as for teacher educators, practicing teachers, policy makers, and the academic libraries serving these audiences. It is also appropriate for graduate-level courses in educational psychology, human learning and motivation, the learning sciences, and psychological research methods in education and psychology.

Character Education in Europe: Challenges and Opportunities Verónica Fernández, Tom Harrison, Kristján Kristjánsson, Roland Bernhard, 2024-05-03

The book aims to highlight the distinct challenges and opportunities that character education faces across several European countries, including Austria, Czech Republic, Estonia, Germany, Italy, Latvia, Portugal, Slovakia, and Spain. By examining character education landscapes in these diverse contexts, this work provides insights into specific hurdles and potential avenues for advancement in promoting character development and positive impact across the region and beyond. Through a detailed analysis of country reports, practices, and research findings, the book sheds light on varying approaches to character education. It emphasizes the need for tailored strategies that resonate with each country's cultural, social, and educational landscapes. These approaches, including traditional, liberal, psychological, and neo-Aristotelian, share a common goal of fostering strong character dispositions but diverge in their philosophical foundations, pedagogical methods, and political assumptions. While European character education grapples with significant challenges, its multifaceted approaches, particularly the neo-Aristotelian, offer robust strategies for developing character dispositions. By overcoming these challenges and harnessing the highlighted opportunities, character education in Europe has the potential to effectively address contemporary educational and societal needs and contribute to more flourishing school environments.

Personality and the Teaching of Composition George H. Jensen,John K. DiTiberio,1989 Researchers seem to have made little progress toward better understanding the nature and importance of individual differences The authors present a paradigm to explain such differences so that researchers will be better able to study the wide variety of approaches that students employ The volume synthesizes and expands the large body of research on individual differences and shows how personality theory can explain the kinds of individual differences found in writing processes written products teaching styles and other areas The authors discuss how personality theory can be used to help students develop their writing skills in a process more suited to their personality type and demonstrate how teachers responses to student writing is to some extent a reflection of their personality type Personalite [i.e. Personality],
