Andru, 2017-10-02 A quarter of a century after the fall of the Berlin Wall and from the vantage point of a post Cold War globalised world there is a need to address the relative neglect of postcommunism in analysis of postcolonial and neo colonial configurations of power and influence This book proposes new critical perspectives on several themes and concepts that have emerged within or been propagated by postcolonial studies These themes include structures of exclusion inclusion formations of nationalism structures of othering and representations of difference forms and historical realisations of anti colonial anti imperial struggle the experience of trauma involving issues of collective memory amnesia and the re writing of history resistance as a complex of cultural practices and concepts such as alterity ambivalence self colonisation dislocation hegemonic discourse minority and subaltern cultures Taken together this volume suggests that some of the methodological instruments of postcolonial criticism can be fruitfully applied to the study of postcommunist cultures and conversely that the experience of the Soviet brand of imperialist rule in the form of communism in East Central Europe can function as an ideological moderator in Third World oriented Marxist inspired postcolonial discourses This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Postcolonial Writing The Wiley Handbook of Early Childhood Care and Education

Volkmann,2016-06-22 In sociolinguistic research on Englishes world wide little has been published on the pragmatics of postcolonial varieties This interdisciplinary volume closes this research gap by providing integrative investigations of postcolonial discourses probing the interstices between linguistic methodologies and literary text analysis The literary texts under discussion are conceptualized as media both reflecting and creating reality so that they provide valuable insights into postcolonial discourse phenomena The contributions deal with the issue of how postcolonial Englishes such as those spoken in India Nigeria South Africa and the Caribbean have produced different pragmatic conventions in a complex interplay of culture specific and global linguistic practices They show the ways in which hybrid communicative situations based on ethnic cultural and linguistic diversity result in similarly hybrid social and communicative routines The central pragmatic paradigms discussed here include im politeness speech act conventions conversational maxims deixis humour code switching and mixing Othering and linguistic exclusion      Postcolonialism Cross-Examined Monika Albrecht,2019-06-19 Taking a strikingly interdisciplinary and global approach Postcolonialism Cross Examined reflects on the current status of postcolonial studies and attempts to break through traditional boundaries creating a truly comparative and genuinely global phenomenon Drawing together the field of mainstream postcolonial studies with post Soviet postcolonial studies and studies of the late Ottoman Empire the contributors in this volume question many of the concepts and assumptions we have become accustomed to in postcolonial studies creating a fresh new version of the field The volume calls the merits of the field into question investigating how postcolonial studies may have perpetuated and normalized colonialism as an issue exclusive to Western colonial and imperial powers The volume is the first to open a dialogue between three different areas of postcolonial scholarship that previously developed independently from one another the wide field of postcolonial studies working on European colonialism the growing field of post Soviet postcolonial post imperial studies the still fledgling field of post Ottoman postcolonial post imperial studies supported by sideways glances at the multidirectional conditions of interaction in East Africa and the East and West Indies Postcolonialism Cross Examined looks at topics such as humanism nationalism multiculturalism nostalgia and the Anthropocene in order to piece together a new broader vision for postcolonial studies in the twenty first century By including territories other than those covered by the postcolonial mainstream the book strives to reframe the postcolonial as a genuinely global phenomenon and develop multidirectional postcolonial perspectives      The

Race, Gender, and Culture in International Relations Randolph B. Persaud, Alina Sajed, 2018-03-05 International relations theory has broadened out considerably since the end of the Cold War Topics and issues once deemed irrelevant to the discipline have been systematically drawn into the debate and great strides have been made in the areas of culture identity race and gender in the discipline However despite these major developments over the last two decades currently there are no comprehensive textbooks that deal with race gender and culture in IR from a postcolonial perspective This textbook fills this important gap Persaud and Sajed have drawn together an outstanding lineup of scholars with each chapter illustrating the ways these specific lenses race gender culture condition or alter our assumptions about world politics This book covers a wide range of topics including war global inequality postcolonialism nation nationalism indigeneity sexuality celebrity humanitarianism and religion follows a clear structure with each chapter situating the topic within IR reviewing the main approaches and debates surrounding the topic and illustrating the subject matter through case studies features pedagogical tools and resources in every chapter boxes to highlight major points illustrative narratives and a list of suggested readings Drawing together prominent scholars in critical International Relations this work shows why and how race gender and culture matter and will be essential reading for all students of global politics and International Relations theory      Emerging Perspectives on Mariama Bâ Ada Uzoamaka Azodo, 2003

Postcolonial Perspectives on the European High North Graham Huggan, Lars Jensen, 2016-07-26 This book approaches the Arctic from a postcolonial perspective taking into account both its historical status as a colonised region and new economically driven forms of colonialism One catchphrase currently being used to describe these new colonialisms is the scramble for the Arctic This cross disciplinary study featuring contributions from an international team of experts in the field offers a set of broadly postcolonial perspectives on the European Arctic which is taken here as ranging from Greenland and Iceland in the North Atlantic to the upper regions of Norway and Sweden in the European High North While the contributors acknowledge the renewed scramble for resources that characterises the region it also argues the need to unscramble the Arctic wresting it away from its persistent status as a fixed object of western control and knowledge Instead the book encourages a reassertion of micro histories of Arctic space and territory that complicate western grand narratives of technological progress politico economic development and ecological state change It will be of interest to scholars of Arctic Studies across all disciplines      Emerging Perspectives on Bessie Head Huma Ibrahim, 2004
