

Phonics

Reading requires the understanding of the relationship between letters and sounds.

Sound out syllables and words.

Practice reading words in isolation.

See words as a sequence of letters/sounds.

Build oral vocabulary so when kids are able to sound out words they know what the word means.

Whole Language

Reading is learned naturally like speech.

Look at patterns and the shape of the word.

Use pictures for clues.

Use context to predict words.

Use cues: Does it look right? Does it sound right? Does it make sense?
