Law, Localism, and the Constitution John Stanton, 2023-03-24 Local government affects us all Wherever we live in towns cities villages or the smallest of communities there are locally elected councils tasked with representing people s interests in the running of the local area This involves inter alia providing public services maintaining local spaces and acting as a level of democratic governance within the broader constitutional and executive structure of the state To fulfil these responsibilities though local government must be democratically legitimate it must have at its disposal reasonable means and resources to function and it must enjoy a healthy and balanced relationship with centralised government This book explores and analyses the extent to which local government in the different parts of the United Kingdom is able to function effectively and democratically It draws from local councillors views in analysing the state of local government under the current constitutional and governmental arrangements discussing issues such as councils relationships with central government citizen engagement finance and public services and the impact of recent reforms It contrasts and compares the different approaches adopted in England Scotland Wales and Northern Ireland also setting out and discussing possible reforms of local government across the United Kingdom While the focus is on the United Kingdom the work includes a comparison with other relevant jurisdictions

Draft House of Lords Reform Bill Great Britain: Parliament: Joint Committee on the Draft House of Lords Reform Bill, 2012-04-23 The history of reform of the House of Lords has a long history since the Parliament Act 1911 and since the House of Lords Act 1999 removed the right of all but 92 hereditary peers to sit in the Lords there has been a number of initiatives to further the debate on reform The latest proposals are contained in the draft Bill Cm 8077 ISBN 9780101807722 published in May 2011 which was referred to the Joint Committee In this report the Joint Committee acknowledges the controversial aspects of certain of the proposals and the members of the Committee reflect wider differences of opinion many of the report s recommendations being decided by a majority The majority supports the need for an electoral mandate provided the House has commensurate powers The current functions and role would continue but the House would probably seek to be more assertive to an extent that cannot be predicted The Committee recommends a House of 450 members 80% elected on a system of Single Transferable Voting preferably that used in New South Wales not the one proposed in the Bill for a 15 year term The main sections of the report cover functions role primacy of the Commons and conventions electoral system size voting system and constituencies appointments bishops and ministers transition salaries IPSA disqualification The Committee recommends that in view of the significance of the constitutional change the Government should submit the decision to a referendum Resurgence, 1970 Responsible Citizens B. J. Brown, Sally Baker, 2013-10-15 The individual has never been more important in society in almost every sphere of public and private life the individual is sovereign Yet the importance and apparent power assigned to the individual is not all that it seems As Responsible Citizens investigates via its UK based case studies this emphasis on the individual has gone hand in hand with a rise in subtle authoritarianism which has insinuated itself into the government of the population Whilst present throughout the public services this authoritarianism is most conspicuous in the health and social welfare sectors such that a kind of governance through responsibility is today enforced upon the population Official Report of the Standing Committees Great Britain.
