Perspectives Global Issues:

Critical Global Perspectives Binaya Subedi, 2010-03-01 The primary purpose of this book is to invite educators to re think what it means to critically conceptualize knowledge about the world In other words imagining curriculum in a critical way means decolonizing mainstream knowledge about global societies Such an approach re evaluates how we have come to know the world and asks us to consider the socio political context in which we have come to understand what constitutes an ethical global imagination A critical reading of the world calls for the need to examine alternative ways of knowing and teaching about the world a pedagogy that recognizes how diverse subjects have come to view the world A critical question this book raises is What are the radical ways of re conceptualizing curriculum knowledge about global societies so that we can become accountable to the different ways people have come to experience the world Another question the book raises is how do we engage with complexities surrounding social differences such as gender race ethnicity religion etc in the global contexts Analyzing global issues and events through the prism of social difference opens up spaces to advocate a transformative framework for a global education curriculum Transformative in the sense that such a curriculum asks students to challenge stereotypes and engages students in advocating changes within local global contexts A critical global perspective advocates the value of going beyond the nation state centered approach to teaching about topics such as history politics culture etc It calls for the need to develop curriculum that accounts for transnational formations an intervention that asks us to go beyond issues that are confined within national borders Such a practice recognizes the complicated ways the local is connected to the global and vice versa and cautions against creating a hierarchy between national and global issues It also suggests the need to critically examine the pitfalls of forming dichotomies between the local or the national and the global or the center and the periphery

Post-Pandemic Social Studies Wayne Journell,2021 COVID 19 offers a unique opportunity to transform the K 12 social studies curriculum but history suggests that changes to the formal curriculum will not come easily or automatically This book was conceived in the space between the dismantling of our old way of life and the anticipation of what comes next The authors in this volume leading voices in social studies education make the case that COVID 19 has exposed deficiencies in much of the traditional narrative found in textbooks and state curriculum standards and they offer guidance for how educators can use the pandemic to pursue a more justice oriented critical examination of contemporary society Divided into two sections this volume first focuses on how elementary and secondary educators might teach about the pandemic both as a contentious public issue and as a recent historical event The second section asks teachers to reconsider many long standing aspects of social studies teaching and learning from content and instructional approaches to testing Book Features Guidance on how to teach about the COVID 19 crisis as a recent controversial historical event Examples of teaching approaches and classroom projects that align with the C3 Framework Lessons about COVID 19 for use in K 12 classrooms as well as chapters on the history of pandemics and on how teachers can help students cope with death and grief A critical examination of the idea of American exceptionalism the role of race and class in U S society and fundamental practices within social studies education Contributors Sohyun An Varenka Serv n Arcos Brooke Blevins Lisa Brown Buchanan Yun Wen Chan Ya Fang Cheng Rebecca C Christ Christopher H Clark Kristen E Duncan Leonel P rez Exp sito Anna Falkner David Gerwin Maggie Guggenheimer Michael Gurlea Tracy Hargrove Jennifer Hauver Mark E Helmsing David Hicks Karon LeCompte Kevin R Magill Catherine Mas Sarah A Mathews Carly Muetterties Amber Neal Katherina A Payne Noreen Naseem Rodriguez Sandra J Schmidt Lynn Sikma Amy Taylor Stephanie van Hover Cathryn van Kessel Bretton A Varga Cara Ward Tyler Woodward Holly Wright

Religious Politics in Global and Comparative Perspective William H. Swatos Jr., 1989-09-07 Current social and political theories which tend to dismiss religious resurgence as a deviant occurrence in the broad sweep of history do not provide an adequate framework for the study of the dramatic resurgence of religion as a worldwide political force This book is the first to address the interplay of religion and politics systematically and on a global scale Offering interpretive essays as well as quantitative comparative analyses it develops a comprehensive theoretical framework and presents the most complete comparative account available of the realities of religious politics in the contemporary world The first of the interpretive chapters focuses on the cultural factor as a means of clarifying the role of religion in the modern world system The next two chapters examine the concept of the self in the context of globalization and the absence of solidarity as a unifying force in societal systems The role of ultimate values in politics and the reasons for the emergence of militant religious movements in nation states is also considered A worldwide study of religious change between 1900 and 1980 gives a clear picture of contemporary global religious movements and formulates a tentative set of explanations of change based on data analysis The statistical links between religious beliefs and political views and between religion and democracy are explored The editor s concluding chapter looks at the implications of the authors findings for general theory in the sociology of religion The editor stresses the need for reconceptualizing basic theoretical constructs particularly the concept of religion itself An important contribution to our understanding of the religious and political forces that are shaping the modern world this work will be of interest to academics researchers and students of world religions sociology and political science
