Pet For Me:

My cat told me - my dog told me Didier Hallépée, 2011-09-07 The cat and the dog have been occupying a prominent place in our homes and at our sides for many years. It is normal to come across them at any time in our literature or when visiting a website. Sometimes they occupy the central place and there are many books that have been devoted to them, sometimes by writers less well known than their companions. Other times they are just making the scene more lively, more truthful because without them where would be the soul of our homes. Through these quotes you will first travel in time across regions, religions and cultures, the Bible, Einstein, Mahomet, Queen Elisabeth II, Shakespeare, Agatha Christie and many others. This little journey into the heart of wisdom or in the company of famous personalities will give you all the delights that our four-legged friends deserve. And at the heart of all these treasures I am sure you will find valuable thoughts to illuminate your every day. His life in a family of Egyptian Maus and King Charles Spaniels made him sensitive to the deepness of the thoughts of our favorite 4 legs. Didier HALL P E shares with us the many quotations he met in the over ten thousand books he could read. Dan Michel's Ayenbite of Inwyt Michel (Dan), Richard Morris, 1866 A Pet for Me Lee Bennett Hopkins, 2004-03 From a devoted mutt giving sloppy doggy kisses to a tarantula munching happily on a cricket lunch, this lively collection of 20 poems celebrates the relationship between children and their pets. Boyer, who serves as the recorder of Shelby's words, Cole narrates the story of her life from birth to puppyhood into adulthood and her life with several owners, including Boyer. Included in the thirteen chapters of this novel are Shelby's adventures and birthdays up to her tenth human year and sixty-seventh dog year. She also tells the story of how she came to live with Boyer and how he has become her translator from dog talk to English.
