Pushcart Prize Xiv Best Of The Small Presses:

Small Press Record of Books in Print Len Fulton,1993 The Pushcart Prize XIV Bill Henderson,1989 Private Fame Richard Burgin,1991 A Little Salvation Judson Mitcham,2007 This new collection from acclaimed novelist and poet Judson Mitcham features poems from the last twenty five years including forty new works and poems from his previously published collections Somewhere in Ecclesiastes 1991 and This April Day 2003 Wise witty and deceptively plainspoken Mitcham s poems show how the moments that truly save us that make us human are necessarily the most fleeting It is up to us he reminds us to create meaning from those moments and in doing so to create our own salvation The transitory nature of human experience is both the boon and the bane of the existence of the speakers in these poems and every poem seems to recognize its own temporality trying to find meaning rather than a definitive answer to the questions it raises The tone of these poems combines a strong sense of humor with a pervasive feeling of loss both celebrating and mourning that a true note is still so hard to hit These voices revel in the human condition even as they are often saddened by it While Mitcham s background and settings are distinctly southern his interests extend far beyond the regional He intimately understands the problems and the people of the South but recognizes that these are above all human problems and human beings His poems evoke Flannery O Connor Otis Redding the Bible and the Baptist Church but they also respond to Walt Whitman Wallace Stevens and the death of Jacques Derrida This Is One Way to Dance Sejal Shah,2020-06-01 In the linked essays that make up her debut collection This Is One Way to Dance Sejal Shah explores culture language family and place Throughout the collection Shah reflects on what it means to make oneself visible and legible through writing in a country that struggles with race and maps her identity as an American South Asian American writer of color and feminist This Is One Way to Dance draws on Shah s ongoing interests in ethnicity and place the geographic and cultural distances between people both real and imagined Her memoir in essays emerges as Shah wrestles with her experiences growing up and living in western New York an area of stark racial and economic segregation as the daughter of Gujarati immigrants from India and Kenya These essays also trace her movement over twenty years from student to teacher and meditate on her travels and life in New England New York City and the Midwest as she considers what it means to be of a place or from a place to be foreign or familiar Shah invites us to consider writing as a somatic practice a composition of digressions repetitions movement as transformation incantation Her essays some narrative others lyrical and poetic explore how we are all marked by culture gender and race by the limits of our bodies by our losses and regrets by who and what we love by our ambivalences and by trauma and silence Language fractures in its attempt to be spoken Shah asks and attempts to answer the question How do you move in such a way that loss does not limit you This Is One Way to Dance introduces a vital new voice to the conversation about race and belonging in America My Alexandria Mark Doty,1993 A book about mortality the mortal weight of AIDS in particular Understanding Diane Johnson Carolyn A.
