The Chinese Academy of Social Sciences (CASS) Margaret Sleeboom-Faulkner,2007 This social history of the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences CASS sheds new light on the interplay between political and academic leaders and academic organization in the Reform era 1978 and provides new insights into the changing character of the Chinese Communist Party in academic life

On the Alternative Punishment to the Death Penalty in China Gui Huang,2024-04-17 This book presents a study of alternative penalties to the death penalty in China aiming to promote theoretical exploration of death penalty reform in China as well as long term penal reform Currently China is endeavouring to control the use of the death penalty and is gradually moving towards its abolition The factors influencing the choice of the punishment option to replace the death penalty are complex and varied and include the traditional punishment culture penalty concepts the political system the punishment system public opinion and human rights etc Given the differences between China and developed Western democratic states when we examine these influencing factors we cannot ignore the culture of the punishment and the special political and legislation system in China In this light this work examined and analysed the factors that influence the choice of punishment option to replace the death penalty in this special political system with its clearly Chinese characteristics Criminal policy and public opinion are two significant and typical factors involving obvious political considerations in China The former normally reflects and carries out the will of the Government as expressed to the national management the latter responds to the majority of citizens view on the current legal system and it is to a great extent the basis for national leadership s running of the country Even though life imprisonment without release hereinafter LWOR has been stipulated by the Ninth Amendment for the crime of corruption it should not be the preferable option as the alternative sanction to the death penalty because it is a kind of cruel torture and violates the constitutional principle of human rights protection On the contrary life imprisonment with possibility of release hereinafter LWPR would be an option but the termination mechanisms for inmates should be set out in accordance with the principle of proportional justice aggravated life imprisonment can be chosen to replace the death penalty in China In addition there needs to be improvements made to the relevant criminal systems By examining China s death penalty reform and long term imprisonment reform this book not only explains the methodology of the reform theoretically but also pays attention to the issues of legislation and judicial practice This book is of interest to scholars and researchers in the fields of criminal justice penal reform issues and crime control in China

Selected Works of Mao Tse-Tung Mao Tse-Tung,2001-08 Mao Tse tung founded the People s Republic of China in 1949 He had also been one of the founders of the Chinese Communist party in 1921 and he is regarded along with Karl Marx and V I Lenin as one of the three great theorists of Marxian communism Mao Tse tung was born on Dec 26 1893 into a well to do peasant family in Shao shan Hunan province As a Marxist thinker and the leader of a socialist state Mao gave theoretical legitimacy to the continuation of class struggle in the socialist and communist stages of development He stressed the importance of land redistribution for the benefit of the rural peasantry and his theories have strongly influenced the nonindustrialized Third World This book includes important articles Mao wrote in the different periods of the Chinese revolution A number of editions of his articles have appeared in various places but none of them had been gone over by the author their arrangement is haphazard there were errors in the text and certain important writings were omitted The contents of the present edition are arranged in chronological order and according to the main periods in the history of the Communist Party of China since its foundation in 1922 The present edition includes a number of important writings not included in the earlier editions Mao has read all the articles made certain verbal changes and in isolated cases revised the text This book covers the periods of the First Revolutionary Civil War 1924-27 and of the Second Revolutionary Civil War 1927-37

Karl Marx and the Postcolonial Age Ranabir Samaddar, 2017-09-07 This book seeks to explicitly engage Marxist and post colonial theory to place Marxism in the context of the post colonial age Those who study Marx particularly in the West often lack an understanding of post colonial realities conversely however those who fashion post colonial theory often have an inadequate understanding of Marx Many think that Marx is not relevant to critique postcolonial realities and the legacy of Marx seldom reaches the post colonial countries directly This work will read Marx in the contemporary post colonial condition and elaborate the current dynamics of post colonial capitalism It does this by analysing contemporary post colonial history and politics in the framework of inter relations between the three categories of class people and postcolonial transformation Examining the structure of power in postcolonial countries and revisiting the revolutionary theory of dual power in that context it appreciates and explains the transformative potentialities of Marx in relation to post colonial condition
