Selected Writings of T.C. Schneirla Lester R. Aronson, 1972 Selected Writings of T.C. Schneirla, Edited by Lester R. Aronson, Ethel Tobach ... Jay S. Rosenblatt, Daniel S. Lehrman Theodore Christian SCHNEIRLA, 1972 Portraits of Pioneers in Psychology Gregory A. Kimble, Michael Wertheimer, 2000-11-01 This fourth book in the series continues the tradition of the popular earlier volumes by offering lively and entertaining information about some of contemporary psychology's most illustrious ancestors. The 21 chapters, many of them written by today's most visible and eminent authors, concentrate on the lives and achievements of major psychologists from a variety of areas. Created for undergraduate and graduate courses in the history of psychology, the variety of pioneers represented provides enough flexibility to also use it as a supplemental reader in other psychology courses. Each of the five volumes in this series contains different profiles, thereby bringing more than 100 of the pioneers in psychology more vividly to life.

Behavioral Development Kathryn E. Hood, Gary Greenberg, Ethel Tobach, 2013-11-26 First Published in 1995, Behavioral Development is Volume 1 in the Research and Developmental and Comparative Psychology series, dedicated to honour the contributions of T. C. Schneirla. This volume represents the substantive content of the Fifth T. C. Schneirla Conference held in November of 1989. The volume is divided into three parts: the significance of the intensity of the adequate stimulus, the process of development, and the concept of integrative levels. Schneirla is still recognized as one of the foremost theoreticians in comparative psychology, and the rebirth of interest in comparative psychology is evident.

Glatthorn, 1982 The chapters in this volume are divided into three sections. In the first section, the authors provide a framework for the reader by setting ethnography in context. Chapters cover definitions of ethnography, its basic underlying principles, and purpose; ways in which it can be useful to education. The second section presents a range of ethnographic studies. The research presented defines by illustration some essential characteristics of ethnography. Chapters in the third section reflect on the different themes, issues, and concerns of the field of ethnography and education in general, and of the articles in the volume in particular. The central themes are continuity vs. discontinuity in children's lives, the role of folklore in education, researcher/educator collaboration, and micro vs. macro levels of analysis.
