William Irwin Thompson

Selected Poems 1959-1989:

Selected Poems, 1959-1989 William Irwin Thompson, 1989 In this collection of thirty eight poems spanning the career of this eminent cultural historian a keen mind and feeling heart are turned toward a third of a century of change Beginning in a gentle Yeatsian mode passing through acute and penetrating cultural commentary the poems end in vision and cosmology

Selected Poems, 1959-1989 David Malouf, 1994 In Other Words Barbara Williams, 2022-04-11 Sixteen of Australia's foremost poets are featured in this volume They talk candidly about their lives and work of the craft the rigour the pangs and pleasures of their calling of winged moments caught however fleetingly on the page These writers also speak of transformation and transcendence the creative process their individual modes and methods of writing and the act of writing itself The interviews provide valuable insights on such topics as gender and writing landscape the function of poetry and the poet's social role influences embraced and withstood literary personal local regional national international The writers and their poetry are discussed from both within and beyond Australian borders This collection offers a broad range of Australian poets most of whom are now in the middle to later years of their career These poets have contributed significantly to the life and quality of poetry in Australia over recent decades and continue to play pivotal roles in Australia's cultural domain today as the country moves towards the threshold of a new century A Porter Selected Peter Porter, 1989 The nearly one hundred poems in this new collection represent the labors of thirty years Selected on the basis of Porter's personal preferences as well as expert opinion these poems are at once accessible and at the same time display Porter's characteristic qualities The Girl in Glass William Jay Smith, 2002 Now touch the air softly Step gently One two I'll love you till roses are robin's egg blue I'll love you till gravel is eaten for bread And lemons are orange And lavender's red So begins A Pavane for the Nursery one of William Jay Smith's most celebrated and charming love poems Collected here for the first time are this and many more of Smith's enchanting paeans to love a bevy of bewitched words of the sort no loved one could ever hear enough Whether committed to a delighted reader's memor recited out loud at a romantic wedding or set to music by a love struck composer as Ned Rorem has done the poems in this intimate book illustrated by the late Ukrainian woodcut master Jacques Hnizdovsky bespeak love in a variety of forms Also included are striking translations of such poets as Federico Garcia Lorca and Jacques Prevert Stand Magazine, 1995 Cyclopedia of World Authors Frank Northen Magill, 1997

Worlds Interpenetrating and Apart William Irwin Thompson, 1997 In this volume of poems written over thirty five years William Irwin Thompson presents a remarkable range of work from the personal and lyrical through the narrative and mythological to the scientific and cosmological that traces many of the major themes that have affected contemporary culture for the past half century His book opens with a mythological sequence on Quetzalcoatl Blue Jade from the Morning Star which John Bierhorst has called a fresh reading In the words of Kathleen Raine There is a great difference between merely academic translation and the imaginative participation which Dr Thompson has brought to these versions and verse commentaries on the great vision of Quetzalcoatl Books Two and Three contain mostly lyrical work while Book Four concludes with a vision of the evolution of life that extends the lyrical into the cosmological in a sequence built on and addressed to the work of his four scientific friends Ralph Abraham James Lovelock Lynn Margulis and Francisco Varela

Worlds Interpenetrating and Apart For Francisco Varela The inexplicable beginning of worlds Required gods in the air germs in the sea Or else there was nothing held to explain Alone among causes the greatest of old Albrecht Dürer and Hieronymus Bosch I think I am beginning to understand Worlds interpenetratingly apart I remark and mark here again in ink Angels I observe Greek and Hebraic Were messengers of old unseen by all Save the most artistic imaginative Women and men whose souls wore out holes In their shod bodies until they were eyes Tied to the stake with martyr's eyes buried Alive in their darkening flesh they could see Infinitesimal crystalline forms Now thought to be viruses better known As plagues marks of the apocalypse aids To understanding the deadly sifting Of sudden unbecoming worlds torn apart Like Dürer's paper sky of martyrdom I confess to angels as viruses Elementals and gnomes bacteria And plagues the final judgment for ending The adaptive habits of the settled world But angels are not viruses only These the merest tip of penetration In our world of bodies that know others And while remaining a part of each Equally elsewhere also take their life
