Design as Aesthetic Communication Asghar Talaye Minai, 1989 The book presents a theory of design as aesthetic communication which tends to bring design and specifically architecture in phase with contemporary views of the universe society and culture expressed by modern physics biology information theory cybernetics and current technology It stresses the concept that within the seeming randomness of the twentieth century life there is an order that is more meaningful than the order imposed by formal rationality It puts forward an alternative model for the traditional view which supposes that aesthetic judgement and design processes are linear progressions Design is viewed here as the process resulting from attempts in communicating symbolic information
