operated within an intricate web of multiple fluid situational and reciprocal social relationships ranging from dependence to bondedness to slavery The eighteenth century represents an important turning point the relatively open and autonomous Asia Trade that prompted Columbus to set sail had begun to give way to an age of high imperialism and European economic hegemony How did these changes affect life for ordinary women in early modern Dutch Asia and how did the transformations wrought by Dutch colonialism alter their lives The VOC created a legal division that favored members of mixed VOC families those in which Asian women married men employed by the VOC Thus employment not race became the path to legal preference a factor that disadvantaged the rest of the Asian women In short colonialism created a new underclass in Asia one that had a particularly female cast By the latter half of the eighteenth century an increasingly operational dichotomy of slave and free supplanted an otherwise fluid system of reciprocal bondedness The inherent divisions of this new system engendered social friction especially as the emergent early modern economic order demanded new tractable forms of labor Dutch domestic law gave power to female elites in Dutch Asia but it left the majority of women vulnerable to the more privileged on both sides of this legal divide Slaves fled and violence erupted when traditional expectations of social mobility collided with new demands from the masters and the state

The Uses of Justice in Global Perspective, 1600-1900

Griet Vermeesch, Manon van der Heijden, Jaco Zuiderduijn, 2019-01-15 The Uses of Justice in Global Perspective 1600 1900 presents a new perspective on the uses of justice between 1600 and 1900 and confronts prevailing Eurocentric historiography in its examination of how people of this period made use of the law Between 1600 and 1900 the towns in Western Europe the Kingdoms in Eastern Europe the Empires in Asia and the Colonial States in Asia and the Americas were all characterised by a plurality of legal orders resulting from interactions and negotiations between states institutions and people with different backgrounds Through exploring how justice is used within these different areas of the world this book offers a broad global perspective but it also adopts a fresh approach through shifting attention away from states and onto how ordinary people lived with and made use of this legal pluralism Containing a wealth of extensively contextualised case studies and contributing to debates on socio legal history processes of state formation from below access to justice and legal pluralism The Uses of Justice in Global Perspective 1600 1900 questions to what degree top down imposed formal institutions were used and how and to what degree bottom up crafted legal systems were crucial in allowing transactions to happen It is ideal for students and scholars of early modern justice crime and legal history

Changes of Regime And Social Dynamics in West Java Atsushi Ōta, 2006 This volume deals with the sultanate of Banten from the outbreak of the rebellion of 1750 52 to the launching of the Cultivation System in 1830 After the suppression of the rebellion by the Dutch East India Company VOC local society showed considerable vitality The introduction by the VOC of forced exploitation of the pepper cultivation did not lead to a significant increase in production but enabled the local elites to augment their power In the late 18th century Asian traders many Bugis and Chinese and English country traders integrated Banten and its Sumatran territory

Lampung into a vibrant inter regional trading network This trade pattern which involved the exchange of pepper and the maritime and forest products demanded by the China market for opium contributed to the emergence of a new economic order in insular South East Asia This study shows how the the society of Banten was in a state of constant transformation in reaction to the Western presence and the shifts of the world economy during the period from 1750 to 1830      Reports of Selected Civil and Criminal Cases Decided in the Court of Appeals of Kentucky Kentucky.
