Publisher's website: Self-Care Nursing in a Multicultural Context Juliene G. Lipson, Nancy J. Steiger, 1996-05-20. As health care reform increasingly emphasizes preventative care and health promotion, it is becoming increasingly important for individuals to attain and maintain good health. In Self Care Nursing in a Multicultural Context, authors Juliene Lipson and Nancy Steiger seek to provide nurses and other health care professionals with the tools necessary to teach clients how to think through and decide how to take care of themselves and when to seek professional care, whether in health or in chronic or acute illness. This informative volume intersects two important issues in nursing: self care and culturally component care. It proceeds from the premise that self care is a powerful philosophical, biological and psychological basis for nursing practice in a variety of settings. Cultural issues are stressed throughout the volume, including a section on cross cultural communication and cultural influences on learning styles. The book is divided into four sections: the historical and theoretical aspects of self care; the components of health such as nutrition, activity and stress management; and the impact of self care in light of health care reform, changing health care settings and the concept of health communities. Health care professionals as well as students at both the undergraduate and graduate levels will find the volume imminently practical and relevant to their work.
