Selznick The Man Who Produced Gone With The Wind:

Selznick Bob Thomas,2001-04 In the days when Hollywood films were being cranked out by the big studios the way Detroit turned out automobiles one man clung to the belief that a motion picture was like a painting which had to be painted and signed by a single artist In 1939 David O Selznick justified his belief He was 37 years old when Gone With the Wind was released to thunderous accolades It was the triumph and the tragedy of his life As a producer he had reached the pinnacle of success there was nowhere else to go In this biography Bob Thomas tells the story of the stormy career of a man who personified the label legend It tells of the women he loved and the fortunes he amassed and lost of the great stars he made and the magnificent motion pictures he created Here is the man himself the author of endless memos the compulsive gambler the driving perfectionist Selznick s life is also a kaleidoscopic reflection of Hollywood s golden era when movies were meant to entertain when the word star was synonymous with glamour and the word damn violated the production code

The Dame in the Kimono Leonard J. Leff,Jerold L. Simmons,2013-07-24 This excellent lively study examines the raucous debate sparked by the Code over the morals and ideals of American movies Publishers Weekly The new edition of this seminal work takes the story of the Production Code and motion picture censorship into the present including the creation of the PG 13 and NC 17 ratings in the 1990s Starting in the early 1930s the Production Code Director Joe Breen and his successor Geoff Shurlock understood that American motion pictures needed enough rope enough sex and violence and tang to lasso an audience and not enough to strangle the industry To explore the history and implementation of the Motion Picture Production Code this book uses 11 movies Dead End GoneWith the Wind The Outlaw The Postman Always Rings Twice The Bicycle Thief Detective Story A Streetcar Named Desire The Moon Is Blue The French Line Lolita and Who s Afraid of Virginia Woolf The authors combine a lively style with provocative insights and a wealth of anecdotes to show how the code helped shape American screen content for nearly 50 years A readable intimate account of the rise to near tyrannical power and the fall to well deserved ignominy of the old Production Code Administration Atlantic Monthly A valuable insight into our own innocence and naivet The New York Times Book Review The triumph of Leff and Simmons s fine work is that they have reminded us of how fatuous and inimical a code of conduct can be how tempting it is as a theoretical answer and how intrinsically flawed it is as a working solution The Times of London The Encyclopedia of Best Films Jay Robert Nash,2019-10-23 This all inclusive A Z encyclopedia by one of the world s foremost experts on cinema provides comprehensive annotations of the best films produced from 1914 on The work offers more than 5 000 three to five star entries three stars good four stars excellent five stars masterpiece and yes author Jay Robert Nash has viewed every single one of them as well as many more that did not make the cut In addition to a precis each film s entry also includes a listing of the cast as well as the key principles involved in production from the director to the hair stylist Especially unique to this book is a rating system that helps parents determine whether or not a film is appropriate for their children Unlike the industry rating system which can be influenced by studio lobbying Nash objectively evaluates each film and confers upon it one of four recommendations for viewing recommended acceptable cautionary and unacceptable Backmatter includes a list of top films by genre i e animated drama sports mystery adventure etc as well as an annotated name index listing all persons mentioned along with their dates of birth and death Rounding out this essential volume for the film buff are over 500 still photos from the author s private collection
