Linked Data for Digital Humanities Terhi Nurmikko-Fuller, 2023-08-18 Linked Data for Digital Humanities provides insights into how digital technologies can enrich and diversify humanities scholarship and make it pioneering in the digital age. Written in non specialist language the book illustrates how information is captured published represented accessed and interpreted using computational systems and in doing so shows how technologies actively shape the way we understand what we encounter. Focusing as it does on underlying Web architecture and projects accessible online the book has an inherently international focus. The interdisciplinary case study examples include bibliographic data from works published in England between 1470 and 1700 literature from ancient Iraq jazz performances predominantly from the USA in the 1930s and even reach as far as an alien fictional future. Whilst these case study examples span vast spatio temporal distances they all share a common thread in the use of the Linked Data information publication paradigm. Using existing computer science methods as well as processes such as ontology development and database design the book also includes reflections on practical considerations and offers advice about how to take institutional policies socio cultural sensitivities and economic models into consideration when implementing Linked Data projects. Linked Data for Digital Humanities discusses technological issues in the context of Humanities scholarship bridging disciplines and enabling informed conversations across disciplinary boundaries. It will be of interest to humanities scholars computer and data scientists and library and information scientists.
