Steven M. Studebaker

Renewing The City Of God:

A Pentecostal Political Theology for American Renewal Steven M. Studebaker, 2016-10-26 This book argues that Christians have a stake in the sustainability and success of core cultural values of the West in general and America in particular Steven M Studebaker considers Western and American decline from a theological and specifically Pentecostal perspective The volume proposes and develops a Pentecostal political theology that can be used to address and reframe Christian political identity in the United States Studebaker asserts that American Christians are currently not properly engaged in preventing America's decline or halting the shifts in its core values The problem he suggests is that American Christianity not only gives little thought to the state of the nation beyond a handful of moral issues like abortion but its popular political theologies lead Christians to think of themselves more as aliens than as citizens This book posits that the proposed Pentecostal political theology would help American Christians view themselves as citizens and better recognize their stake in the renewal of their nation The foundation of this proposed political theology is a pneumatological narrative of renewal a biblical narrative of the Spirit that begins with creation proceeds through Incarnation and Pentecost and culminates in the new creation and everlasting kingdom of God This narrative provides the foundation for a political theology that speaks to the issues of Christian political identity and encourages Christian political participation The Theocratic Kingdom of Our Lord Jesus George Nathaniel Henry Peters, 1884 Radical Renewal Howard A. Renewal in the Church Peter Barclay, 1900 God with Us Christoph Barth, 1991

Aliens & Strangers? Anna Strhan, 2015-06-19 In this work of qualitative sociology Anna Strhan offers an in depth study of the everyday lives of members of a conservative evangelical Anglican church in London St John s is a vibrant church with a congregation of young and middle aged members one in which the life of the mind is important and faith is both a comfort and a struggle a way of questioning the order of things within society and for themselves The congregants of St John s see themselves as increasingly counter cultural moving against the grain of wider culture in London and in British society yet they take pride in this and see it as a central element of being Christian This book reveals the processes through which the congregants of St John s learn to understand themselves as aliens and strangers in the world demonstrating the precariousness of projects of staking out boundaries of moral distinctiveness Through focusing on their interactions within and outside the church Strhan shows how the everyday experiences of members of St John s are simultaneously shaped by the secular norms of their workplaces and other city spaces and by moral and temporal orientations of their faith that rub against these Thus their self identification as aliens and strangers both articulates and constructs an ambition to be different from others around them in the city rooted in a consciousness of the extent to which their hopes concerns and longings are simultaneously shaped by their being in the world
